TRAINMEN AGREE TO MEDIATION BY U. S. BOARD ON DEMANDS

Representatives of 400,000 Railroaders of U. S. Accept Parley

WALKOUT POSTPONED BY MOVE, IS BELIEF

Personal Pleas of the Federal Board Members Bring Conference

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Representatives of the railroad employees today announced that they would accept mediation by the United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation on their demands.

Earlier in the day representatives of railroads proposed mediation of the threatened strike by the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation and in behalf of the employees A. B. Garrison of the Conductors union declined to accept mediation which was offered by Elisha G. Lee of the Pennsylvania railroad. Lee said that the railroads would enlist the aid of federal mediation regardless of the refusal, if possible.

Immediately after the reading of the early decision of the employees an executive meeting of the representatives of the 400,000 trainmen was called to consider the employers' stand and then came the announcement of the acceptance of mediation.

Acceptance of mediation by the employees came as a big surprise. It has been officially stated by the officers of the big brotherhood that they "would discuss their difference with the railroad managers but that a third party was unnecessary."

It is believed that the personal plea of members of the United States Mediation Board brought about the trainmen's acceptance of a parley, which means at least a postponement of the strike which would tie up 225 railroads of the country.

It is believed that mediation will start immediately as demanded by the railroad brotherhoods.

COUNTERFEIT $5 GOLD PIECES ARE FLOATING AROUND THIS SECTION

Have you a $5 gold piece in your pocket?

No, the question is not asked for the purpose of making a touch.

But take a look at the gold piece. Does it look good to you? Most $5 gold pieces look good to a man who is "busted," as you aren't. But does it look like real money?

The truth of it is, the money may be counterfeit. If it is, you won't have to examine it very critically to be convinced of that fact. Several bogus $5 gold pieces have been passed here in the last few days. It is entirely possible that some one has been passing them out into the regular channels of trade. That they are here and have been passed from friend to friend without either knowing the money was bogus is known.

This warning is given so that any person having a bogus piece of money may report to the officers with the hope that the money may be traced back to the person who turned it loose on the public.

WEST THIRD ROCK BASE MAY BE USED IN NEW WORK

Councilmen Grant Property Owners Permit to Use Old Work As Part of New

The rock base on West Third street, from Ross to Garnsey, will become a part of the proposed improvement of that street with crushed rock and oil, from Ross street west to Pacific.

Declaring that its use is impracticable and that it will prove more expensive to the property owners in the long run, the committee appointed by the city council to investigate the matter, today conceded to the wishes of the property owners in the three blocks, and consented to its use.

The committee, composed of Trustees Tubbs and Greenleaf and City Engineer Bonebrake, met on the street at 9 o'clock this morning and concluded that the old work would have to be torn up. At a conference at the city hall later, and after property owners had been consulted it reversed its first decision and authorized George Wells of the contracting company, to do the work according to the desire of the property owners.

Committee Digs in Street
The committee, in company with Water Superintendent Reid, Street Superintendent O'Brien and George Wells of the contracting firm of Wells & Bressler, made a thorough investigation this morning. Pick and shovel were brought into play to disclose the depth of the old work and its condition. The depth was found to vary from one inch and a half to two inches and a half. The base is firm and it was conceded that new work of crushed rock and oil would never roll and pack to the firmness of the present base.

Union of the new with the old work, and the filling in of depressions in the old work to produce a smooth surface was considered impossible, and for this reason use of the old work is impracticable.

Would Cost More

The committee believed that to attach the new work to the old would cost the property owners more in the long run than to have new work put in, and the street would not be nearly as serviceable. With the base as firm as it is, crushed rock and oil could not be rolled in the depressions and made to adhere to the old base for any length of time.

The old work is of crushed rock made by the chain gang, and put on the street many years ago. It is about twenty feet wide through the center.

HUGHES REFUSES TO RETRACT ON STATEMENTS

ST. PAUL, Aug. 9.—Charles E. Hughes today flatly refused to retract. Democratic leaders yesterday demanded a retraction from him of charges that the Democrats had replaced worthy government heads with their political henchmen.

Hughes will very probably make answer to the demands for the withdrawal of the charges in his speech here tonight. He may go further into the charge which he lodged against the administration of a blanket attempt to restore the spoils system and do away with the Civil Service system of the government.

The candidate is not sparing himself any on his first stumping tour. Indeed he is so willing and anxious to greet the crowds that he insists always on speaking at the top of his voice.

HUGHES HAS PLATFORM TRYOUT TODAY

WINONA, Minn., Aug. 9.—Charles E. Hughes today had his first tryout as a rear platform campaigner. It happened when the candidate told a crowd of nearly 1000 that he looked for a revival of the American spirit.

ALTHOUGH SHOT FULL OF HOLES SAYS HE WILL KILL ENEMY

Eugene Hernandez Identified As Man Who Fired Four Bullets In Darkness

Two bullets in his brain, a bullet in his abdomen, a bullet through his chest, Ed Ruiz cings desperately to life, declaring he would live to "get even" with the man who is believed to have waylaid him in darkness to do him to death.

Eugene Hernandez, nicknamed Cicildo, was taken before Ruiz at the County Hospital.

"He is the man who shot me," gasped Ruiz.

The case is one surrounded by mystery. It is no ordinary Mexican shooting scrape, induced by indulgence in liquor.

Whoever shot Ruiz shot him in the back, possibly from ambush, and when he had fallen fired a bullet into his brain, thinking to make sure the victim would tell no tales. Edward N. Ruiz, of an old Spanish California family, was born in Anaheim thirty years ago. Recently he has been employed on a ranch in the Santa Ana canyon owned by J. A. Turner, cashier of the Farmers' & Merchants' National Bank of Santa Ana. Henry Luther, foreman of the ranch, states that Ruiz was a good worker, and so far as he knew quiet and without an enemy.

Ruiz lives across the road from the Turner place on five acres that he inherited. Between his home and the paved canyon road is a bridge across the S. A. V. I. Co. ditch. It was at this bridge that his enemy lurked.

No Thought of Danger

The evening was spent by Ruiz at the home of his sister, who lives but a short distance from the house where Ruiz, a single man, lives. Apparently without fear, laughing his good-byes as usual, Ruiz went cheerily away.

A shot! Then another—a third—and a fourth—in quick succession. Several of the neighbors rushed out. Luther thought someone was shooting at his dog. He saw others running toward the bridge, and he, too, ran there. They found Ruiz unconscious, bleeding.

As quickly as telephones and automobiles could get them, Sheriff Jackson, Under Sheriff Iman and Deputy Fowler were brought from Santa Ana, and Constable Boissereau joined them. Ruiz was rushed to the County Hospital. Not till then could a word be secured that would point to the guilt of any person. Ruiz's sister and Ruiz's employer said they knew of no one who would wait in the dark to shoot Ed in the back.

Accuses Cicildo
At the hospital Ruiz recovered consciousness. Though he had four wounds, any one of which might prove fatal, he rallied wonderfully.

"It was Cicildo," said he to Dr. Zaier. "He is kind of crazy. He has been talking about killing me for a year. There was no reason—he was just crazy to kill me. But I'll get even, I'll kill him, I'll get him for this."

Knowing that without Ruiz's testimony, the chances to convict any person of the brutal shooting would be slim, Sheriff Jackson and Deputy District Attorney Eden went to the County Hospital this morning with N. D. Meyer, interpreter, and Eugene Hoff, stenographer. They had no use for either interpreter or stenographer. Ruiz talks good English. Though weak, and at times confused in his statements, he refused to believe he was going to die.

As preface to a legal "dying statement," the man making it must say that he believes he can never get well, and that he is going to die soon. The law presumes that a man who is going to die very soon will tell the truth.

Ruiz did not think he was in danger of dying. His condition was explained to him, but he merely replied, "I'll get him."

The officers returned without the dying statement. Under Sheriff Iman and Constable Boissereau learned that Cicildo is a nickname given Eugene Hernandez. They found Hernandez, a single man, at his home in the Santa Ana canyon. They took him before Ruiz at the hospital, and Ruiz said he was the man who shot him.

Says He Is Innocent

Hernandez declares he is innocent. He was arrested as he was leaving his home. Iman and Boissereau searched his house and found a 32-caliber revolver, the barrel of which looked as though the gun had been used recently. The chambers were filled with loaded cartridges.

Hernandez came to California from Mexico twelve years ago and has been working for Vicente Yorba for about five years. It was stated today by some of those who know Ruiz that when drinking he has been somewhat of a bully, and it is known that he and VICE-ADMIRAL SCHEER, commander of the German high-seas fleet, is today his country's hero. Admiral Scheer commanded the German fleet in the recent engagement in the North Sea and since his return from that battle he has been feted and honored on every hand. He is looked upon in Germany as the man who will eventually open the seas to the Kaiser's navy and merchant marine.

Hernandez have had a fist fight or two, an experience said not to be uncommon among a number of Mexicans who know Ruiz.

About ten days ago Hernandez was taken to the County Hospital by Vicente Yorba. Hernandez's face showed the evidence of a severe beating. He said that he had been held up, robbed and beaten. He was picked up much befuddled, and was taken to the hospital, where he remained for several days recuperating.

The circumstances of Hernandez's beating are now being investigated thoroughly.

Condition Critical

"Four bullets entered Ruiz's body," said Dr. Zaier. "One bullet entered at the back under the shoulder blade, passed through the right lung, and I removed it from under the skin. Another bullet entered at the back and punctured the intestines. Two other bullets entered near the top of the head at the back of the head. One of those bullets ranged downward. I showed a probe into the wound for six inches and touched no bullet. The other bullet also entered the brain. Knowing the extent of his injuries, it is a wonder to me that he is alive. He is breathing better today than he did last night."

AUSTRIAN STRONGHOLD IS TAKEN AFTER 14 MONTHS; SLAVS NEAR STANISLAUS

Gateway to Austria Opened By Colossal Latin Victory; Czar's Armies Sweep On to Within Seven Miles of Vital Railway Point, Taking 7,400 Prisoners

(By Ed. L. Keen, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Goritz has fallen.

The great Austrian stronghold, which for fourteen months has blocked the Italian invasion of Austria from the west, has been wrested from the Austrians by the victorious sweep of the Italians.

The war office at Rome officially announced the seizure of the fortress today, stating that 10,000 Austrians were captured.

The news of the Italian attack, which resulted in the greatest allied victory since the Entente offensive began, was received an hour after the receipt of official word from Petrograd announcing a striking Russian victory.

Advancing swiftly against the important railway city of Stanislaus, the Russians captured the town of Tysmenica in an advance of more than six miles in twenty-four hours.

A series of minor heights immediately in the vicinity of the town were captured, together with 7,400 Austro-German prisoners, Petrograd announced.

The Russians, under General Letichsky are now within seven miles of Stanislaus.

On the Somme front only minor operations are reported by the British and French, including slight British advances north of Pozieres.

The French officially admitted the recapture of Thiaumont by the Germans, northeast of Verdun.

The news of the fall of Goritz came as no surprise to London, after receipt of the word that the Bridgehead had fallen, and surrounding positions seized by the Italians.

The taking of Goritz is the greatest achievement of Italian arms since Italy declared war on Austria in May, 1915. It opens the way for a new Italian advance on Trieste, one of the principal goals of the Italians.

Goritz is the point of convergence of important railways and the key to the whole of the plains opening up to the invasion of Austria from the west.

Earlier attacks on the great Austrian stronghold cost thousands of Italian lives. The Austrians too suffered enormously in repelling the Italian attacks.

Following the occupation of Goritz, the Italians took a number of heights west of the city. Large quantities of arms and ammunition fell into the Italians' hands.

RIVER REPAIRS, DRAINAGE CANAL WORK TO COST NEARLY $75,000

Nearly $75,000 will be expended on repairs to the Santa Ana river and drainage canals by the Newbert Protection District and the Talbert Drainage District, according to the estimates made by the directors of the two organizations. The most of this vast amount will go into repairs made necessary by the heavy storms of last winter.

The directors of the Newbert Protection district at their meeting last Saturday made an estimate of the money it would be necessary to raise by taxation to take care of the needs of the district, and the total aggregates $55,000. The secretary was authorized to advise the supervisors of the amount needed, and a letter was sent to the board today by Miss Helen Van Cartmell, secretary. The rate of taxation necessary to raise the amount will be fixed by the board. The estimate includes $12,000 for interest on bonds, $41,500 for repairs and $2000 for incidental expenses. Redemption of bonds in the district will have to be provided for in the year 1917-18.

The estimate cost for repairs is $21,000 larger than the sum raised in 1914, and $30,000 larger than last year.

The amount raised for 1914 was $20,000 and for 1915 $11,500. The estimate for this year will include the cost of a new dredger which the district has just put in service. The company's dredger was burned two years ago, and a new one has just been built. It was placed in service last Saturday. The new machine is a fine one and was erected at a less cost than a similar dredger could have been purchased for.

The Talbert Drainage district will spend about $31,700 in repairing its canals and system. Of this sum $20,000 was raised through the sale of bonds which were disposed of last week, and $11,700 will be raised by taxation. The estimate of the cash needs of the district made by the board includes $3300 bond interest and principle, $11,700 for repairs and $1500 for incidental expenses.

Repair expenses in the district for 1914 were $9000 and in 1915 $7800. The Talbert Drainage district is within the Newbert Protection district, which means that the property owners in this district have to pay a double taxation for drainage and protection of their lands.

BY JOHN P. HEARLEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

ROME, Aug. 9.—Two million men today are battling on the Isonzo front in the great struggle for Goritz. In the first two days of the Italian offensive 16,000 Austrians were captured.

No such awe inspiring cascade of fire has ever before been witnessed on the Italian front. So violent are the incessant earthquake-like phenomena produced by the big shells that houses on the Goritz plain are being shattered and caused to collapse solely through seismic waves.

The months of vast caverns on the Carso plateau, where thousands of Austrians sought refuge, were choked by tons of debris, converting the caves into living tombs.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the order was given the infantry to leave the trenches. The spectacle of these hardy warriors recalled legendary days. Thousands of those in the front ranks wore round helmets decked with floral garlands.

At the head of the main forces ran men bearing aloft big white discs mounted on slender gray-green poles so as to guide the gunners who lifted their range as the infantry advanced.

of opinion concerning the proposed improvement.
Too Costly, Claim
The opponents of the measure claimed that the proposition was too expensive an experiment to be lightly gone into as it would involve too great an expenditure to be warranted at this time, particularly when the contemplated jetty wall might change the whole course of the currents and consequently the shore line, thus necessitating an entirely different plan of front protection.

After thinking the matter over the board was inclined to ask for more time on the proposition and during the coming week will again thresh out the matter and try and arrive at a decision of the bulkhead matter at their next regular meeting next Monday.

The next matter of vital interest was the removal of the salaried deputies from the police force. A number of letters were read from various property holders and others protesting against the action of the board in this regard and much discussion was entered into regarding the merits and demerits of the new regime.

Protests
It was claimed by the opponents of the new system that the property owners of the east end of the city would be left without adequate protection, for which they were paying taxes to secure and that the retaining of Deputies Ulrich at Balboa and Souder of Newport was vitally necessary to the material welfare of the city.

It was claimed by the supporters of the board in their action that the city would be better policed and at a great deal less cost to the taxpayers by the system of the appointment of five or six special police who will serve without salary, being available at all times and so located as to be within easy call of the various parts of the city. It was pointed out that at the time of the last election when the city did away with the saloons that the advocates of the "dry" movement claimed that under a "dry" regime much money could be saved to the city in the matter of police protection and owing to the action of the voters in April the city was left without about one-third of its annual revenue, thus necessitating the most rigid economy along all lines of the city's business.

To Name Special Deputies
It is the plan of the board to have appointed a number of special deputies, among whom will be regular employees of the city in other departments, and who will serve without salary in the additional capacity of deputy marshals. Thus for example, in place of having one salaried and uniformed deputy at Balboa, there will be three or more regular officers whose names will be published and who will at all times be within easy call of all the taxpayers and property holders.

After a long discussion of the matter, by a three to two vote it was decided to place the petitions on file, the majority of the board holding to their former action.

At the meeting of the City Trustees last night a motion declining to make any change in the ordinance requiring that each jitney give a $10,000 indemnity bond was carried by the vote of Trustees A. J. Visel, O. H. Maryatt and George McPhee. Trustee W. A. Greenleaf declined to vote, and Trustee J. W. Tubbs was absent.

The emergency that was reported to be facing the jitneys through the withdrawal of the Casualty Company of America from the bonds of thirty-eight of the jitneys is being met to-day by taking out bonds in the Guardian Casualty Company. While it is reported that that company is going to withdraw from jitney insurance in six weeks, no official notice to that effect has been given, and no assurance that the report is true has been received in substantial form.

The Casualty Company insurance was up last night at midnight.

Put Up to City
An effort was made to get the City Trustees to waive the insurance requirement of the ordinance. That plan, however, was given a farewell jolt Monday night when City Attorney Scott informed the board that since the law requires a bond the city, in case of an accident, might be in a sad predicament should it allow a jitney to run without insurance. Another suggestion—possibly the one that the jitneys were behind heart and soul—was that the city repeal the bonding requirement.

The jitneys said that they were in difficulties. One insurance company had quit writing policies. A second would quit in six weeks and the jitneys would be losers if they paid for insurance in that company. The third and last company represented here that would write jitney insurance charged a price that the jitney people said was prohibitive.

Last night's meeting of the City Trustees was held for the purpose of making known whether or not there was any way out of the woods for the supposedly stranded jitneys.

Not City's Trouble

"The situation appeals to me about like this," said Trustee McPhee. "The jitneys fought this city at every stage of the game in our efforts to secure proper legislation. They did nothing to make the way easy for this city. I am informed that the jitney people knew a week before we did that their insurance would be withdrawn on August 8, yet they did nothing about it. I am informed that one of the jitney men when asked what the jitney people proposed to do about the situation, replied by saying, 'We are not going to do anything; we are going to let the City Trustees do the worrying.' I have a different idea from that. My idea is that it is not up to this council to walk the floor. The jitney people evidently thought that we would have to release them from the requirement to give bonds. I, for one, don't believe we should. We thought it advisable to pass this law, and I think it is just as advisable to keep it as it was to pass it."

Will Not Repeal
McPhee moved that it be the sense of the board that the law be not repealed, and, further, that the city marshal be instructed to strictly enforce the requirement of a $10,000 bond from each company. Maryatt seconded the motion, and it carried.

Mrs. Henley Davis, driver of a jitney between here and Huntington Beach, wanted to know if she would have to quit running her stage unless she took out insurance with the Texas company, which has a high premium. Her question brought out the information that the Guardian Casualty Company is still writing jitney insurance and that all the information concerning its supposed decision to withdraw from jitney insurance in six weeks came from a report that an agent for another company had heard somewhere in Los Angeles.

Regardless of whether or not that report was true, the jitney people were early at the office of the Guardian Casualty Company agent this morning getting insurance. Whether or not it is good for longer than six weeks remains to be seen. The City Trustees take the attitude that it is up to the jitneys to do the worrying.

SUGAR PRICES GO DOWN TEN CENTS

Sugar prices have again been cut in Los Angeles 10 cents a hundred for all grades, which will be good news to the average housewife. This makes the present quotation of beet granulated $7.70 a hundredweight and standard cane and berry $7.90.

Sugar is weak in the east and this is the main reason assigned for the lower market here. There are three weakening factors in the situation to-day, namely, a disappointingly small demand, the approach of the new American beet crop and the fact that England has quit buying and English holders are weak.

In fact, sugar in London today is below a parity with New York, and if it were not for the fact that the English war office prohibits the sale of English-owned sugar outside of the kingdom, it would be possible to buy some of the English sugar now stored in New York at a lower price than is being charged in the open market in the American metropolises.

It seems reasonable to expect added reductions in the near future, unless some unexpected factor should enter the situation to cause an upward movement of values.

FALLS IN DITCH: SAVED BY MAN HEARING CRY

Anaheim Rancher In Narrow Escape From Drowning Is Saved By R. K. Bishop

But for the fact that County Horticultural Commissioner R. K. Bishop was within hearing distance of his cry, George Allen would have been drowned yesterday at his ranch south of Anaheim. He was unconscious in the bottom of a ditch when Bishop rescued him.

The horticultural commissioner went to Allen's place to see him concerning the fumigation of Allen's orange orchard. Bishop found Allen in a field close to a concrete irrigation ditch. During the conversation, Bishop noticed that Allen did not seem to be feeling well. Bishop started away along the ditch and had gone perhaps fifty yards when he heard a peculiar cry. Looking back, he saw that Allen had fallen into the ditch.

Bishop ran to the place. Water backed up by Allen's body was flowing over his face. In falling in a fainting spell, the man's head had struck the edge of the cement ditch, and blood was flowing from the gash.

Bishop jumped into the water, and lifted the unconscious man's head above the surface. Allen is a big man, and it was with no small difficulty that Bishop lifted him out of the wet, slippery ditch. Leaving the man on the ditch bank, Bishop hastened to the man's home for assistance. Allen was taken home. His condition is not serious. Had the man's fainting spell occurred two or three minutes later, Bishop would have been out of hearing and sight, and Allen would have been drowned.

'RAH FOR HUGHES!'

We must give Democratic National Chairman Vance McCormick credit for cleverness in his bid for Progressive votes for President Wilson.

In his telegram to the Chairman of the "Woodrow Wilson Independent Progressive Conference," in San Francisco, Mr. McCormick says:

"By radical I understand one who goes too far; by conservative, one who does not go far enough; by reactionary, one who will not go at all. I suppose I must be a progressive, which I take to mean one who insists upon recognizing new facts and circumstances as they arise. This spirit of progressiveness has actuated all of President Wilson's public service," etc., etc.

We shall not argue the question of President Wilson's progressiveness, nor shall we offer any objection to the support of President Wilson's candidacy by party Progressives of Democratic antecedents or tendencies. But it seems incredible that any Progressive of Republican tendencies should fall for the honied words of Chairman McCormick. Indeed we feel quite confident that all such votes that Mr. Wilson will get can be totaled without an adding machine; for no man or woman can read the speech of Charles Evans Hughes, delivered yesterday in Chicago, without being entirely satisfied with both his Progressivism and his Republicanism.

There is only one thing that could possibly drive a Progressive-Republican into the Democratic party, and that is the Exclusive Republicanism of the Fredericks-Otis-DeYoung-Spreckles coterie. But Progressives and progressive Republicans should bear in mind—as they surely will—that neither the Republican party nor its candidate, Mr. Hughes, is responsible for that kind of Republicanism. It is merely a barnacle that the party has not yet been able to scrape off in its process of regeneration. But by the time Mr. Hughes gets through with it—judging from his opening speeches—there will not be enough of it left for seed.

WHOLLY MISTAKEN

The story in yesterday's Blade about a movement on the part of the Johnson For Senator Club to "swallow up" the Santa Ana Republican Club calls to mind the story about Gov. Johnson's "foreign chauffeur"—a native-born Californian who, to get rid of a lot of boys who were bothering him with questions, said: "Me no speaka de English."

In Riverside, Pasadena and other places joint meetings of the Johnson For Senator Clubs and the Republican clubs are being held for the purpose of promoting the Hughes and Fairbanks candidacies. At these meetings all candidacies below presidential rank are ignored, the speakers confining themselves to the discussion of national issues, and the expounding of Republican doctrines.

The suggestion came to the editor of the Register from several parties INCLUDING MEMBERS OF BOTH THE LOCAL CLUBS, that this sort of team work was good politics, good campaigning for the national ticket. It was pointed out that while the Johnson For Senator Club had adopted a resolution to the effect that it would do all in its power to support the candidacy of Hughes and Fairbanks, it was, so far, confining its activity wholly to Gov. Johnson's Senatorial candidacy; also that there seemed to be danger that the Republican Club might specialize on the Booth candidacy to the detriment of the National ticket.

The point struck home. We realize that the Register had been somewhat disproportionately obsessed by its enthusiasm for Gov. Johnson's candidacy, and we feared that the same might easily become true of the Johnson For Senator Club. And the fact that the Republican Club, theoretically, at least, organized for the support of Republican nominees, and not for the

ARE YOU A BETTER REPUBLICAN THAN CHARLES EVANS HUGHES?

FROM THE SANTA CRUZ NEWS

The attitude of the mass of Republican voters of Santa Cruz with respect to the candidacy of Hiram W. Johnson for United States Senator may be very briefly stated.

These Republicans consider that when Hiram W. Johnson pledges himself to the support of Charles E. Hughes for President, when he pledges himself to a protective tariff and to a policy of national preparedness he meets the essential demands made this year upon any Republican aspirant for the Senate.

In addition to this the Republicans of Santa Cruz feel that Hiram Johnson if elected Senator would be able to accomplish far more in the interest of California as a whole than could either of his opponents.

If Charles E. Hughes is to be elected President it must be through a reunion of the Republicans and the Progressives. If the old quarrel between these two factions is to be fought all over again there will be no such reunion and the only party that will profit will be the Democratic.

Charles E. Hughes knew this when he sent this telegram to Governor Johnson just before the a Republican nomination—the fact that this club had endorsed Mr. Booth's candidacy was at least ground for apprehension that it, too, might fall into the same state of innocuous desuetude, with respect to the National ticket, that seemed, with some degree of justice, to be attributed to the Johnson For Senator Club.

Therefore the editor of the Register, without the knowledge of any other member of the Johnson For Senator Club, suggested to W. B. Williams and Walter Eden, of the Republican Club, that it might be well for the two clubs to arrange for a joint public meeting in the interest of the NATIONAL TICKET EXCLUSIVELY. Both Mr. Williams and Mr. Eden expressed themselves promptly and unequivocally as favorable to the suggestion and said they would consult with other members of the club about it. In doing this evidently some misunderstanding of the matter reached the Blade.

This is absolutely a correct and COMPLETE statement of the case, in which we feel sure both Mr. Williams and Mr. Eden will bear us out.

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Divine Appointment

If there is one thing knocked farther than any other by this war it is the fiction of divine appointment. The cherishing of this superstition has involved belief in the right of one man for some greedy whim of his own to order to death a million men, each of more value to the world than himself. There remains a general belief in the wisdom and goodness of God. What has disappeared is the notion that God would order the slaughter of babes to make a royal gentleman experience thrills of gratification.

Out of the way will come a great democracy and the king who wants a job then will have to accept some humbler role.

He might amuse himself by writing history since he will be relieved of the trouble of making it.

Filling the Gaps

Every time there is a lull in battle news the correspondents send word that peace is near, and several of them have gone so far as to arrange terms. Well, peace doubtless is nearer than it was two years ago, but as to terms these won't be made in council. The victors will hand them over ready-made, and the vanquished will be asked to like it or lump it as they please.

This is a guess, of course, but as good as the next guess.

Movies as Means of Grace

According to a preacher, if St. Paul were alive now he would be running a movie show to attract attention to Christianity.

Charlie Chaplin must be glad that St. Paul has passed on. The austere reformer would bounce him.

Discouragement

Kansas farmers have defeated the I. W. W. Offers of work were not sufficient, for the loafers looked work in the face and laughed.

Then the farmers tried shotguns, and the I. W. W. claps got so nervous that they jumped across the state line without touching it.

Packing a Trunk

A recent newspaper article tells how to pack a trunk. Of course, the style of packing commended by it is all right, but the art is one that is not to be taught by a correspondence school. The way to have a trunk properly packed is to let your wife pack it, and you can bet she never learned from a newspaper.

Accidents

I notice that a boy was killed in a California town by a man engaged in cleaning a revolver, and that the jury exonerated the man.

When anybody points a loaded revolver at another the ensuing tragedy is called accident only by charity. No accident is the effect of the operation of a controllable cause.

Prosperity

Material wealth of the Salvation Army has been fixed by a New York court at $33,000,000, says a dispatch.

opening of the last Progressive conference in San Francisco:

New York, July 8, 1916.
Governor Hiram W. Johnson,
Palace Hotel, San Francisco:
I understand that the Progressive conference of California is to be held today. The national aims to which we are devoted are so vitally important that I earnestly hope there may be that strong and effective co-operation which will insure their achievement.

I desire a re-united party as the essential agency of national progress, a party drawing to itself the liberal sentiment of a quickened nation. I warmly appreciate the many assurances of support that has been so frankly shown to forget former differences in order that, by common effort, we may meet our country's imperative need as to our common purposes. I repeat to your conference what I said in my telegram to the Progressive committee at Chicago—"We are not divided in our ideals. Let us work together to attain them."

CHARLES E. HUGHES.

If Charles E. Hughes, the chosen leader of the Republican party in the national campaign, is willing and anxious to form an alliance with the Progressives, the Republican in Santa Cruz opposed to such alliance must hold himself as more of a Republican than Charles E. Hughes.

the apostles pop out of their heads. But it isn't "fixed." The figures represent merely the stage of its growth.

Look Out Below!

The anti-aircraft navy gun most surely is a wonder. It shoots five miles straight to the sky a bolt as "twice of thunder." Hope those who shoot it will be wise and quickly get from under.

BRAWLEY, Aug. 9.—The board of directors of the Imperial irrigation district, at a meeting at El Centro, flatly refused to resign their offices at the request of the advisory board of the fifteen water companies in the Imperial Valley, declaring that a popular vote by the people who elected them was the only mode of procedure. The request for their resignation was the culmination of a heated controversy among water users in the valley. Dissatisfaction at the present board grew out of a water shortage that has existed here since early in July.

SAN DIEGO IS FINEST SPOT IN COUNTRY FOR MOTHERS AND BABIES

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 9.—San Diego is the finest spot in the United States for mothers and babies. Nowhere in the country do mothers and babies thrive so well as in the southwestern-most corner of the country. Figures covering every section of the nation prove it. They were taken by investigators of the New York milk committee in a survey of 241 cities.

Of all these cities San Diego was found to have the lowest percentage of deaths among babies as compared with total deaths. For the past ten years with the exception of one—1916—the honors went to San Diego. In cities over 100,000 Los Angeles was tied with San Francisco. All California communities showed similar standings.

JOLLY DINNER DANCE

Miss Christine Watson Entertains Yesterday Evening At Balboa

The How-De-Do cottage at Balboa was the scene of a large and pleasant dinner-dance given last evening by the charming hostess, Miss Christine Watson. Early in the evening the guests assembled in the spacious dining room, where a delicious four-course dinner was served. The decorations were unique and original, being carried out in moss and kelp. Over the table hung a large, light ball from which odd and delightful favors were drawn.

The latter part of the evening a private dance was held at the pavilion, after which several of the party enjoyed a moonlight bathing and canoeing jaunt.

Those who partook of Miss Watson's hospitality were Misses Mary Jo Grubb, Margaret Lyon, Hazel Pence, cost, Ardis Burns; Messrs. David Anderson, Victor Myers, Russell Johnson, Charlie Givens, Eugene Trago, Virgil Pentecost, all of Santa Ana, and the following of Los Angeles: Misses Margaret Thomas, Katherine Wishard, Ruth Taylor, Verle Richeson, Phyllis Harrington, Messrs. Collins Buller, Leland Kent, Paul Wilson, Ruben Jaffe, Fred Hughes.

INFORMAL MUSICAL

Mrs. Ruth Deardorff Shaw Hostess to Company of Fifty, Boston Director Here

A favored few of Santa Ana's musicians and music lovers had the honor of meeting last night one of the "lions" of the musical world, Chevalier F. Guerrieri, director in the Boston Opera Company. Mr. Guerrieri, however, is very modest and a most charming and interesting man to meet.

Last evening was the regular "at home" set aside by Mrs. Shaw and she and her genial husband make it most pleasant for any of their friends or other music lovers who wish to call at that time.

Yesterday evening, of course, was more than ordinary interest, owing to the visit of Chevalier Guerrieri and Mrs. Minna Roper Viersen, who sang three groups of arias, beginning with those of the time of Handel and Mozart, and ending with the modern, a big number from "Louise." Mrs. Viersen's voice was magnificent in its power and volume and electrified the audience. Mr. Guerrieri accompanied her, and later played the Minuet Serenade from his opera "Love's Emprise."

Miss Clara Mae Wilson, one of Mrs. Shaw's talented pupils, opened the program with several beautifully rendered numbers on the piano. James Willis Rice played some of his own excellent compositions on the violin, accompanied by his wife; Miss Zoe Glidden pleased with masterly piano numbers, as did also the talented young musician, Earl Fraser, and Mrs. Shaw also delighted with a modern number, "The Sea" and one of Mozart's lovely things.

The program was unique in that it consisted for the greater part of original compositions. Mr. Rice, Mr. Fraser and Mr. Guerrieri are all composers.

An informal social period followed the program and a chafing dish supper was enjoyed, the company of fifty being divided into three groups. Informal music was a feature.

TOOK FIRST HONORS

Miss Sarah Saunby, Well Known Tustin Girl, Stands First In Class of 152

The many friends of Miss Sarah Saunby and of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Saunby of Tustin, will congratulate her upon the splendid record made in June in the state examination for nurses. Miss Saunby stood first in the class of 152.

Miss Saunby is a graduate of the Good Samaritan hospital of Los Angeles. Accompanying the report of her standing, a letter came from the state superintendent congratulating Miss Saunby upon her record.

The young woman is now with her aunt, Mrs. Etchison, in Toronto, Canada, going there for her health. Before returning to California, Miss Saunby expects to take a course in Columbia college in New York, to fit her for superintendent of hospital work.

His Eighth Birthday
Master Willard White was eight years old yesterday and he invited twelve of his little playmates to help him to celebrate at his beautiful home on East Fourth street.

The afternoon passed all too quickly for the little guests, who had enjoyed many outdoor games on the velvety lawn.

The little party was later assembled on the porch, where a beautiful birthday cake awaited them. It was decorated with just eight red candles and Willard's name and age were printed in little red candles. Each child, as he or she blew out a candle, made a happy wish for Willard.

The cake was then cut and served with ice cream, cookies and candy. Many presents were received and the merry little party broke up wishing Willard many more happy birthdays.

Those enjoying the party were: Helen Smiley, Elizabeth Beal, Anna Grace McElree, Evelyn Sherrill, Ruth Bishop, Solon Beal, Ruth Sherrill, Cornelius McElree, Lofton Bishop, Willard White, Bud Grigsby and Charles Goby.

FOR EASTERN FRIENDS

New York Visitors At the Wiesseman Home Honored By Delightful Affair

Pink and white was the very pretty color motif adopted by Miss Violet Wiesseman last evening when she entertained charmingly in honor of her three house guests, Misses Marie and Elsie Kolb and Helen Sieb of Buffalo, New York. Cecile Brunners were the dainty flowers utilized and they were artistically arranged in baskets. The time was interestingly spent with ruck and other parlor games, the last being planned to obtain partners for a delicious two-course collation. Many pretty little kiewpies assisted in the decorative scheme for the tables.

Besides hostess and honored guests, there were present Misses Arvilla Ball, Marguerite Tedford, Helen Walker, Laura Davis; Messrs. Gordon House, Maxwell Jayne, Truman Dawes, Bernard Packard, John Wehrly and Fred Forgy.

BEREAN CLASS PICNIC

Staid United Presbyterian Folk Have Supper, Take In Concessions

One of the merriest times the class has ever had was an evening spent last night at Long Beach, when the Berean class of the United Presbyterian church motored over to that delightful resort for supper and an evening of fun.

A few small kiddies together with a couple of dozen of those of more mature age and size, sat down to a jolly meal at tempting tables prepared by the social committee of the class.

Afterwards a round of the best concessions at this popular beach was made, all of the game members of the class—and most of them were game—participating. The most timid came shooting down the third degree slide so gamely that even Mrs. Lindsay and Jack Smith, in spite of fear and hesitation, attempted it and came through with colors flying and reaching terra firma safely amid the cheers of their admiring comrades. Mrs. Carmack regrettably gave up the Jack Rabbit Ride when she found the cars were so unobliging as to absolutely refuse to stop that a fair passenger might get off and walk if she so desired.

More than one of us agreed with Mr. McCalla, our Scotch friend, when he pronounced this trip "a wee bit rough around the corners."

The evening of gaiety ended with a couple of bowling games. In a brilliant match of duck pins Mrs. Martin Warren and Mrs. Scott Torrington defeated Mrs. Will Lindsay and Mrs. Jack Smith in a well balanced game.

A team composed of Torringtons, Raltt, Warren and Todd took the odd from one made up of Smith, Lindsay, Swartz and Baker in a close and exciting game of ten pins.

Mrs. J. R. Baker, the popular teacher, and her husband, accompanied the class on this most enjoyable outing.

Berean Class Picnic

The Berean class of the First Presbyterian Church, with their families and a few guests, enjoyed a delightful picnic supper yesterday evening in Birch Park. Covers were laid for 115 and all the good things were done full justice. Bowls of luscious fruit adorned the long tables.

Among the guests was the class teacher, A. M. McDermott. The company enjoyed a season of sociability following the supper.

CANADIAN PICNIC

The Canadian Society of Southern California will hold its annual picnic at Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, Saturday afternoon, August 19. A full program of athletic events and races is being arranged for, and suitable and attractive prizes will be given. There will be a stirring address by Thomas E. Wolwine, District Attorney of Los Angeles County, and an address by Mr. Tyrone Power, the actor.

IOWANS TO PICNIC

Everything is ready for the Iowa picnic to be held at Long Beach Saturday, August 12, in beautiful Bixby Park. The Hawkeyes are looking forward to meeting the thousands of old friends, for almost every town in Iowa will be represented.

WHY ENDURE SUMMER COLDS?
It isn't necessary to have a stuffed head, running nose. To cough your head off, as it were. All you need do is use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The soothing and healing balsams open the clogged air passages and in a short time you get relief and start on the road to recovery. Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a cough and cold insurance.

Going to Los Angeles take Crown Stages every 1/2 hour, round trip $1.00.

GRAY SPIDER'S BITE POISONS YOUNG MAN

Orange News: Somerville Thompson is recovering from an acute case of poisoning which followed the bite of a large and vicious gray spider last Thursday night.

Thompson, who has been sleeping out in the open during the recent warm weather, was awakened during the night to find that his jaws were locked and every muscle set. Medical assistance was immediately summoned but it was impossible to relieve his condition until late the following morning.

The severe strain of this tense muscular contraction left him in such an exhausted condition that he was unable to sustain any substantial food for over thirty-six hours.

The species of spider was unknown to those who saw it. It is described as a large gray spider about the size of a tarantula and having a big red head and neck.

A large red blotch on his right ankle showed where the poisonous spider had done its work and the fact that its poisonous charge immediately entered the blood stream instead of causing a local infection puts it in the class of the most dangerous and poisonous monsters.

Thompson was attended by three physicians whose timely and expert attendance of the case saved him.

Mr. Thompson, who has become quite a favorite in the community through his unusual dramatic abilities, was to have taken leave for Berkeley to enter the University of California College of Letters on Friday. His recovery from this trying ordeal is moving along rapidly and he will probably leave for the North the latter part of this week.

AMUSEMENTS

At the West End
For the presentation of "The Clown" which will be seen at the West End Theater on Thursday, Friday and Saturday with Victor Moore, he celebrated comedian, in the title role, the Jesse L. Lasky Company entered an entire circus for three days. This traveling organization happened to be playing near the Lasky studio at the time the picture was being produced and was promptly secured with all its performances and equipment. To secure the audience, the Lasky Company merely announced in the daily papers that the citizens of Los Angeles were invited to be their guests at a performance, and hundreds were turned away. Victor Moore played the role of the principal clown, but his main support was made up of the regular artists of the circus.

At the Temple
Those who recall the wonderful artistry of Tyrone Power in portraying the crime-film, "John Needham's Double," will need no further assurance that "The Eye of God," to be exhibited at the Temple Theater on Thursday and Friday with Mr. Power playing the leading male role, will provide superlative entertainment. Although the role Mr. Power will portray in "The Eye of God" bears no resemblance whatever to his twin characters in "John Needham's Double," there is the strain of mystery and sordid crime permeating "The Eye of God" that had the effect of making Mr. Power's earlier Bluebird one of the most fascinating films ever screened. Lois Weber, a favorite with all patrons of Bluebird productions, will be co-star with Mr. Power in "The Eye of God," and she furnished the scenario and directed the production as well. Chas. Gunn and Ethel Weber will be prominent in the presenting company, giving "The Eye of God" practically an all-star cast.

SAYS 'DRY' LAWS IN WASHINGTON AID BUSINESS

Prohibition has wrought a great change for the better in business conditions in the state of Washington, according to the statement of S. J. Glidden, who was in the city a short time ago.

Glidden is a traveling jewelry salesman, representing a manufacturing firm in the east. He has been making Washington and other coast cities for a number of years in the interest of his firm. He makes his home at Seattle, where his father resides, during his trips through Washington. He visits every city in the state at any convenience.

In conversation with A. J. Padgham of this city, he stated that when he started from the east for his regular trip through Washington, he told his wife, who accompanied him, that he supposed he would find business conditions very slow on account of the state having gone dry. He started to call upon the jewelers of Seattle more as a matter of form than in anticipation of business. He was agreeably surprised when the jewelers of the city gave him larger orders than usual. One of the largest firms in the city told him that his business was 55 per cent better than it had been when the saloons were operating. His store had been visited by more working people than ever before, and they purchased good articles of jewelry. This jeweler was morally dry, but contributed $500 to the wet fund, in the belief that it was to his business interest to have the state continue in the wet column. This was in March, two months after the state went dry. He found the same reports from jewelers in every city which he visited. Traveling salesmen for other lines of business whom he met told him that their experience among their trade had been the same as his—that all business men reported a larger volume of business.

One of the features of the prohibition law in Washington is that a resident may go to any official and for 25 cents receive a permit to send away for liquor to be used in the home. The general observation was that very few people were availing themselves of this method of securing liquor. Men who had been in the habit of frequenting saloons and getting their "nip" as they wanted it, would not go to the trouble of securing a permit and importing liquors.

Happiness reigned in those homes where the husband and father had before spent most of his earnings for booze. The children are better dressed and fed, and a general air of prosperity prevails.

O. ROSS BORING IS DEAD BY PISTOL-SHOT

The death of O. Ross Boring who shot himself at his home near Whittier Tuesday night, comes as a shock to his numerous friends and to his relatives in Orange. Whether his death was a case of accident or suicide has not been fully determined.

The tragedy occurred about 11 o'clock Tuesday night. Mr. Boring was in a room by himself at the time and two shots were heard. Death was instantaneous.

O. Ross Boring was about 55 years of age and was well known in Los Angeles, where he has been deputy city assessor for ten years, though making his home on a ranch near Whittier. He leaves a wife and two grown children. Clifton Boring, salesman for the Los Angeles Soap Company, and Mrs. Leola Hovey, wife of the head electrician for the Los Angeles Examiner. He also leaves two brothers, Knox Boring of Los Angeles and J. P. Boring of Orange, and one sister, Mrs. D. C. Pixley of Orange.

MAYOR TELLS OF FISHING TRIP IN STATEMENT

Being efficient is one of Mayor Visel's best-known characteristics. So, when he was asked today for an account of his experiences during his camp trip to Mono county, with Rev. E. J. Inwood of the First Methodist church, a formal statement, setting forth the gist of things, was forthcoming.

The mayor and Rev. Inwood returned yesterday, in the Visel Studebaker, completing an outing which began on July 24.

Here is Mayor Visel's statement, staccato sentences and all:

Had the greatest trip ever.

Ran up to Merced, then Coulterville and then the Tioga state road to Mono Lake, then on to Bridgeport, the county seat of Mono, then on to the Walker river, by way of Foles Hot Springs. First camp made at Leavitt's Meadow, all the fixings, pine trees, quaking aspens, bubbling ice cold snow water brook. Dead timber for big camp fire. Fished for a couple of hours, where we had the limit. Changed camp to the East Walker, where Dr. Inwood caught a 26-inch trout on a No. 6 hook, after a game fight of 20 minutes. All we could do was photograph him, for we couldn't begin to eat him, as we were only two to eat. Camped and fished, Little Walker, Rush Creek, Silver Lake, Lee Vining Creek and then pushed for home. Sorry I'm telling about the big trout caught, but it was the big incident and we talked about it around the camp fire until 10 p. m. Biggest trout fish I ever saw caught on a small hook. Nothing else of importance. Mileage made was 1085 miles. Everybody courteous and pleasant. Country we camped and used in, is isolated, but easy to get to, and we were both glad to get home again.

The mayor amplified the foregoing statement verbally by stating that Rev. Inwood and he discovered a way partially to overcome the difficulties of traveling over the sixteen-mile stretch from Rush Creek to Deadman's Creek. Travel the road at night, is the mayor's suggestion, for then the sand seems to congeal and to be packed more firmly by the action of the cool night air.

BALLOONIST DROPS
3000 FT. AT BEACH

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 9.—Clinging to an unopened parachute suspended from a collapsed balloon, Wayne Abbott, 38 years old, fell nearly 3000 feet at Seal Beach last night and escaped with a few bruises and a sprained ankle.

Hundreds saw the fall as powerful searchlights played on the aeronaut while he was in the air. Abbott ascended in a hot-air balloon from the strand. While up about 3000 feet he attempted to cut loose for a parachute drop, but something went wrong and the parachute would not disengage itself. Then the hot air in the bag began to cool and the balloon slowly collapsed and fell.

Abbott struck the ground with considerable force two blocks from the starting point, and the bag fell on top of him. He almost smothered before being rescued. He was unconscious for a time, but when he recovered it was found that his injuries were trivial.

If he is able he will try again to-night, and if not, William Little, another aeronaut, will take a chance with the same parachute.

Astonishing Power of Iron to Give Strength to Broken Down Nervous People

Physician Says Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate Folk 200 Per Cent. in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, a well known specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for one reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin, another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some are fussy and irritable; some skinnier and bloodless. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your nervous system for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired.

Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated iron for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100,000 to any Charitable Institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent. or more in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Rowley Drug Co. and all other druggists.

News From Co. L

NOGALES, ARIZ., Aug. 6.—We are doing the big stunt of guard duty again. Fate has decreed that Company L have something to do on Sunday ever since we left Santa Ana. The better the day the better the deed, I suppose.

There was a ball game today on the parade grounds between the Seventh California and the Twelfth Regulars. The former won by the score of 5 to 4 in a fast game. Both teams were fast and there were several fast plays made by both clubs.

Bob (Curly) Morris, being one of the married men who is going home on a dependent clause, has resigned from the kitchen.

Slim Jaeger is the new cook to assist Chef John Tervooren. Jaeger is a former cook for the company and so is not a new man at the game.

The boys are wondering where Chef Tervooren gets his smokes, for after each meal the popular chef steps out of the kitchen to enjoy his fancy (tropic) cigar. The boys want to know where he gets them.

Private Kenyon, who had Post No. 1 today, was thinking of one of the other posts when he called for corporal of the guard, for he called for No. 7 instead.

Some of the men of the company are evidently having bad dreams, because certain ones of the non-commissioned officers have thought that they saw night prowlers around the tents. Sergeant Pete Reihl was one of the first men to notice these prowlers. The boys sure had some breakfast this morning. We had fried eggs, potatoes, bread, rice and coffee. Our new mess sergeant, Chef Stearns, is certainly a good provider. He got bananas for the boys for their Sunday dinner.

Private Archie Jones is getting to be quite a signal man. He is using all his spare moments working on the semaphore.

Slim Jaeger, the new second cook, is an early riser. The tail boy gets up at 4 o'clock so that the boys can get their morning chow on time.

We are using city water now for drinking purposes. It is a little better than we have had and all the boys are feeling much better.

We have heard rumors that the things that were being sent to the men were going to the officers instead of to those to whom they were sent. We all want to say through the Register that this is not true. We want to say further that the men are getting everything sent to them and they divide with the officers if they see fit. The men get all that is coming to them and are not howling for more all the time. All we ask of the people is not to take any stock in these rumors.

Rumors upon rumors are coming, and the latest is that the mess sergeant has threatened to give us a roast chicken dinner next Sunday. It is too good to be true.

Rumor 768-412 is that Lieutenant Ford has quit smoking. He stood the pressure for two days, finally somebody gave him a cigar. He looked at it and said: "You and I have been separated for two days and I can't stand for it any longer."

It was stated that Sergeant Pete Reihl had also sworn off, but he could only stand it for a day and a half and then he smoked another "nail."

A new organization has appeared in camp. It is the order of K. P. S. No. it is not the order of the Knights of Pythias, but it is the honorable order of Kitchen Police, or Benevolent Order of Spud Peelers. The organization now has nearly sixty members. Cook Tervooren is president and Slim Jaeger is vice president of the new organization.

DRESS MATERIAL LONDON LED BY PRICES SENT N. Y. AS FIRST UP BY WAR WORLD PORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Here's why her clothes cost so much. This fall she asks for long, full skirts on her party gowns and dresses and insists that $21 a yard material be used.

It takes four yards and "up" to make a skirt of this kind, or $84 worth for "just the dress goods" which doesn't make the waist nor put on the trimmings.

That's why some women's dresses cost around $150. This deduction was brought out today when Chicago dress manufacturers made their display at the Fall Style Show of Chicago-made garments at Bismark gardens.

Dress manufacturers vied with each other to display the most costly material in their dresses. Buyers agreed that all had succeeded.

The war has made costly materials more costly, say manufacturers, because these kinds come from imported goods demands a good price, middle west buyers discovered today.

Navy blue is the prevailing color in dresses for fall, although black, purples and wine colors also are favorites.

The waist is cut yoke effect with a collar at the back.

BIG OVATION GIVEN G. O. P. NOMINEE

HUGHES ATTACKS PARTISAN RULE; 15,000 CHEER AT COLISEUM

'Pork Barrel' Legislation Is Bitterly Indicted By G. O. P. Candidate

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Declaring that he did not care the snap of his finger what might happen to him politically or personally afterward, and that if elected he would conduct this national government for the American people regardless of partisanship, Charles E. Hughes last night brought 15,000 persons to their feet in the great Coliseum meeting. He had been in Chicago all day, and everywhere he appeared in public he was greeted with great enthusiasm.

Speaking in the same hall in which he was nominated, Hughes said he felt a special obligation to tell the people of Chicago precisely where he stands. He then elucidated the "America efficient" doctrine set forth briefly in his speech of acceptance, and announced for the first time since his nomination the specific constructive policies he would support.

Would Appoint Fit Men
He declared with tense earnestness that if elected president, he would not appoint a single man to a political office unless he was a fit and a clean man, regardless of how high he might stand in the party.

He denounced the "pork barrel" legislation from which southern congressmen had sought to dredge out dry creeks, and he demanded a scientific budget making by Congress.

He said that the "you kiss me and I'll kiss you" system of making appropriations in Congress—the pork barrel—was one of the most shameful things in our national life.

The Flag and the Man

MAY, in Cleveland Leader

He pilloried former Secretary of State William J. Bryan with respect to Minister Sullivan and Santo Domingo. He read Bryan's letter to Sullivan suggesting he had been there long enough to ascertain what good jobs there might be lying around for "deserving Democrats."

Dramatic
Raising his hand and throwing all his power of utterance into his great voice, Hughes declared with dramatic emphasis:

"Those words are enough to make every decent American hang his head in shame."

He declared that if elected president no man would be appointed to a diplomatic position by this government who was not qualified in every way to hold the position, regardless, again, of partisanship.

He said, while the applause rolled over the great auditorium, that as he had been a 100 per cent judge on the bench he now had become a 100 per cent candidate and if elected he would dedicate everything to the American people, regardless of political jobs.

Business-Like Way
He said he would try to solve the problems of this government in a business-like way.

"Now is the time of test for this democracy," Hughes said, "Democrats are always generous. It is a hard thing for a democracy to be expert."

He then declared for simple honesty in governmental affairs regardless of parties or political jobs.

He said that if he had to choose between a government of 75 per cent laws and 25 per cent honesty and a government of 25 per cent laws and 75 per cent honesty, he would choose the latter every time. He hurled denunciation against grafting crookedness and half service for the people by the people's representatives, and demanded that now, when the nation is at a crisis, all the problems of self-governing people be dealt with with just common, old-fashioned honesty.

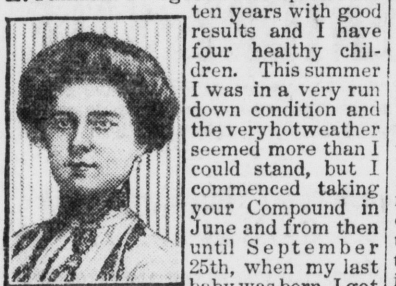

Hughes had President Wilson in mind when he said that the nation now stands at a point where it must choose between words and deeds, between things that read well and action. He held up the Wilson administration to shame for having used the great arms of the government, he said, to pay cheap political debts. He asserted that this government today displays the spectacle of incompetent men in important positions because of partisanship and the paying of old debts at the expense of the people.

WILL TURN PAGES
FULLERTON, Aug. 9.—Percy V. Steen, janitor of the Grammar school, has patented a "new" device for turning music pages while playing, without having to take the hand from the piano or other instrument. Those music turners were patented in great numbers from 1866 to 1876, but are not quite so numerous since the discovery that none of those patented up to January of this year would work when needed. If Mr. Steen's patent proves any better than its predecessors, it will be a money maker.

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her Well and Strong.

Lincoln, Illinois.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for ten years with good results and I have four healthy children. This summer I was in a very run down condition and the very hot weather seemed more than I could stand, but I commenced taking your Compound in June and from then until September 25th, when my last baby was born, I got along much better than I had before. My baby was a girl and weighed 14 pounds at birth, and I recovered very rapidly which I am sure was due to your medicine. I am well and strong now, nurse my baby and do all my work. I had the same good results with your medicine when needed before my other children came and they are all healthy. My mother has taken your medicine with equal satisfaction. She had her last child when nearly 44 years old and feels confident she never would have carried him through without your help, as her health was very poor."—Mrs. T. F. BORDWELL QUILTS CONTEST FOR U. S. SENATE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Walter Bordwell, former superior court judge, withdrew from the race for the United States senatorship last night.

In a formal statement to the Bordwell nominating committee and citizens of California, former Judge Bordwell declared a sense of duty to his party had impelled him both to enter and to withdraw from the race.

Discussing his formal statement with newspapermen, ex-Judge Bordwell declared he will throw his support to the candidacy of Willis H. Booth.

"I shall be extremely busy with some very important board of education matters," he said, "but I shall devote all the time I can to Mr. Booth's candidacy."

"For my own personal comfort I am glad to be out of the race, but I did not withdraw on account of my comfort. I would have had to make many personal sacrifices had I remained in the fight, but I was willing to make these when I announced my candidacy."

Revises Discussion
News of Judge Bordwell's withdrawal revived discussion of political gossip current here and in the north three weeks ago, at the time of the visit in Los Angeles of William H. Crocker, Republican national committee man, and Francis V. Keesling, chairman of the Republican state committee. This was to the effect that in consideration of his withdrawal from the senatorial race, which was strongly urged on him at that time, Judge Bordwell was promised the support of Keesling and other Republican leaders if he cared to become a candidate for governor at the next election.

At his home last night this proposition was put to Judge Bordwell. The story was unequivocally denied.

"I have not seen Mr. Keesling since he was here," he said, "and then it was only to pass the time of day. I have no political aspirations, and no kind of promise has been made to me. No such proposition has ever been made to me by any one, and I have never discussed or entertained it."

Following is Judge Bordwell's statement announcing withdrawal of his candidacy:

Final Statement
"To the Bordwell nominating committee and my fellow citizens of California:

"The best interests of the state and nation imperatively require that a genuine Republican should be elected to the United States senate from California this fall. Three candidates have entered the lists for the Republican nomination: Willis H. Booth and myself, both lifelong Republicans, and Governor Hiram W. Johnson, who, while formerly a Republican, has been for several years past and is now at the head of another party."

"My entrance into the race was at the instance of friends, all good and true Republicans, who regarded Governor Johnson's bid for the Republican nomination as an unwarrantable intrusion and a public menace and who urged that my candidacy would insure his defeat. In finally yielding to such importunity and becoming a candidate I put aside personal preference and personal interest, and was actuated solely by a sense of duty."

"It was understood, however, at the time of giving my consent to becoming a candidate, that, if later on the interests of the party seemed to demand it, I should be at liberty to retire."

"While the announcement of my candidacy received a due measure of popular approval it has been opposed by many prominent members of the party. Some of these, in good faith and with perfect right, prefer an opposing candidate. Others who would have supported me are constrained by prior commitment. With these no fault can be found by me. Others, however, have sought to employ the party organization in an effort to suppress my candidacy. Such methods are reprehensible, hurtful to the party and subversive of the principles of the direct primary law. However, I entertain no grievance, but rather express the hope that the leadership of the Republican party in California shall hereafter be animated and controlled by the principle that the people and they alone must make the party nominations."

"Under the conditions recited it has been found impracticable to conduct a thorough and effective campaign, and, therefore with the acquiescence of the committee who filed the petition for my nomination, and believing it to be for the interest of the Republican party, I withdraw my candidacy."

Furthermore, I hereby tender my heartfelt support and best efforts to bring about the nomination and election of Willis H. Booth as United States senator."

"WALTER BORDWELL."

JOHNSON MAN WHO HAS MADE GOOD —LT. GOV. STEPHENS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Lieutenant-Governor Stephens urged an audience in Fraternal Brotherhood hall last night to support Governor Johnson for United States senator for the reason that this state needs a big man in the national legislature and there is no bigger man in California than the governor.

"Governor Johnson has a national reputation," continued Mr. Stephens, "and wherever people in this country hear his name there comes to them at once the mental vision of a man who stands for humanitarian legislation and who has made good. He is worthy the support of every right thinking man and woman in this state because of what he has done for the people."

The speaker ridiculed the sectional issue that has been raised with respect to the governor's candidacy and declared that nowhere else in the country any particular importance attached to the question of residence.

CHILD LABOR BILL PASSED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The child labor bill was passed in the Senate yesterday afternoon by a vote of 2 to 12. Prior to this every amendment was voted down. The most important amendment by Senator Overman of North Carolina, extended to two years the time when the law should become operative.

It was rejected by a vote of 42 to 14.

Two Republicans and ten Democrats voted against the administration bill. They were: Republicans—Oliver and Penrose, of Pennsylvania; Democrats—Bankhead, Alabama; Bryan and Fletcher, Florida; Hardwick and Smith, Georgia; Overman and Simmons, North Carolina; Smith and Tillman, South Carolina; Williams of Massachusetts.

Following is the child labor bill in a nutshell:

Prohibits shipment in interstate and foreign commerce of products of all mines, quarries, workshops, factory, cannery, mill or other manufacturing establishment, within thirty days before removal of its product, where proscribed labor has been employed.

Children under sixteen may not work in mines or quarries.

Children under fourteen may not work in shops, mills or factories of any kind.

Children between fourteen and sixteen employed in any manufacturing establishment or cannery may work not more than eight hours each day and not more than six days in one week.

The law becomes operative one year from its approval.

TEACHERS CHOSEN

FULLERTON, Aug. 9.—At a meeting of the high school trustees Monday afternoon Prof. Twombly was again employed to teach chemistry and Prof. Daniels again to teach advanced mathematics and physics the coming year. Prof. Parker will not teach athletics here this year, having accepted a position as teacher in the high school of commerce in San Francisco. He will also study advanced engineering at Berkeley at the same time. This vacancy will probably be filled at a board meeting to be held Friday.

Pay Your Bills By Check

Quite often we are called upon to return to a customer some cancelled check that proved that a bill had been paid. Had that account been settled by cash and the receipt lost or mislaid there would always have been a doubt in the payee's mind, even though he didn't insist on a second settlement.

Provide against any misunderstanding by opening a bank account, and then pay your bills by check.

The Vatican has officially notified the different governments of the existence of the Nunciatus. The neutrality of the Holy See is respected. It sails under a guarantee of immunity from all the belligerent powers. The papal colors of yellow and white fly from its masthead.

$25,000 CLAIM FOR KICK FROM HORSE IS ON TRIAL TODAY

Teamster Says That Clyde Ellis Gave Him a Vicious Horse to Work

Today Judge West is trying the $25,000 horse kick case brought by Otto O. Rice, a Talbert teamster, against Clyde Ellis, rancher of the lowlands section. Assisted by a crutch, Rice took the stand, and told the story of his injuries.

Attorneys S. M. Davis of Santa Ana and De la Monte & Bacon of Los Angeles appear for the plaintiff, and J. C. Burke and H. C. Head for the defendant.

Rice was on the stand this morning. He said that he was employed by Ellis to work a team in a beet field. On September 2, 1915, he was in charge of a horse that he said Ellis had given him to work. In the corral, the horse suddenly fell fly his hind hoofs. Rice was kicked on the head and on the left leg. His head was cut and his leg was broken in two places. He was knocked down, and in the stampede of horses started by the horse he was trampled. He declared that Ellis knew the horse was dangerous.

Rice is asking for judgment of $25,000. He declares the injury to his leg is permanent.

SMITH'S TALK ABOUT CEMENT WORK COST HIM $1 FINE

Herschel Johnson Fined $10
On a Charge of Careless Driving of Auto

George Washington Smith had a conversation with J. R. Holley of Garden Grove. The conversation did not concern the weather that is nice nor the birds that sing nor the sky that is blue.

However, it is said that the atmosphere was something blue. Holley and Smith had a disagreement concerning something that arose in the cement business. Each man is a contractor. They met on the sidewalk on West Fourth street, and Smith said some things, including a declaration that he would with his fist remove the lower part of Smith's face. Officer Smithwick came along and exerted his persuasive powers upon Smith, with the result that he subordinated Smith's conversation for a time. But Smith came back. He met Holley again, and again they failed to discuss the weather, the birds nor the sky. That time, Smithwick decided to put Smith under arrest.

Yesterday Justice Cox had some of the language alleged to have been used by Smith reproduced in his court. The words were used, though possibly they lacked the peculiar emphasis that was given them when first they were ejected at Holley.

Smith was found guilty of disturbing the peace. He was fined $1.

Pays a Fine of $10

Herschel Johnson paid a fine of $10 upon conviction in Justice Cox's court for careless driving on West Fifth street. The principal witnesses against him were Mrs. Mary Rowley and Mrs. Anne Parker. A buggy in which they were driving was driven off the street in order to avoid being struck by Johnson's machine.

FEW IN CALIFORNIA AVAIL THEMSELVES OF TORRENS LAND LAW

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 9.—The Torrens Land Law, eighteen months in force now, has not been widely taken advantage of, according to figures. After having been voted and passed by the initiative the people of California seem to have forgotten all about this new means of getting the state to back up their title of ownership for only $1 as compared with much higher figures by trust corporations.

During the first 11 months the law was in effect only 39 petitions were filed from Los Angeles county, and only 12 each from San Francisco and San Diego counties.

Main Street Is City's Auto and Millinery Row

TWO-STORY WHITE BRICK STRUCTURE UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT CHURCH STREET

City Hall and Chamber of Commerce Come Within the Observation of Visitor as He Passes Through Santa Ana—Activities of Latter Reviewed

BY C. JULIAN KADAU

This is the last of the special boost editions on Santa Ana. The correspondent makes the admission with profound regret. Nowhere has he found "writing up" a city so pleasurable, and nowhere has he found so much to write about.

A comparison with other cities may be of interest here. It rarely requires over eight pages, including advertisements, to completely cover the points of interest in a city. Santa Ana has had three large, eight-page issues, (in fact the West Fourth Street number of July 27 ran three pages over and into the first section of the regular paper) and there is much that remains unwritten.

MAIN STREET

Before "wading into" the merits and demerits of Main street, it is in order to remark that this issue presents a real difficulty to the correspondent. Perhaps you've really never thought of it, but there are five millinery stores on Main street; and, to a man scribe, nothing is quite so impossible to write about as women's headgear. Perhaps it is because men believe no phase of the high cost of living is so high as the cost of a woman's hat.

PASSING IT UP

After several attempts to describe the new fall creations in milady's hats, we hopelessly abandon the millinery proposition, and record only that the millinery establishments on Main street are a heap more conspicuous than the many auto stations, the City Hall and the Chamber of Commerce combined.

It was deemed advisable to write up Main street as a whole, both North and South.

Beginning at the North, the visitor is first impressed with the beautiful residence section. Autoists passing through the city, en route to Los Angeles, San Diego, or intermediate points, are loud in praise of "the city of beautiful homes." Their impression of Santa Ana's home section is largely obtained from North Main street.

THE BUSINESS SECTION

The commercial section of Main now commences one block further north. The erection of the Orange County Business College block, on the corner of Church, is responsible for this addition.

From J. W. McCormac, the principal, I learned that the new building in process of construction is to be of white lined brick and two stories in height. The first floor will consist of four store rooms, and the second is to be apportioned into class rooms. A feature of particular interest will be the addition of a music department.

Santa Ana needs the latter and will no doubt support it loyally.

Altogether the Main street business section, from the new Orange County Business College block to the Excelsior Dairy, on the corner of First, covers seven blocks.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Of prime importance is the City Hall and Chamber of Commerce building on Third and Main.

Let us devote the balance of this article to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and its creative accomplishments. In the opinion of the writer there is no similar body with so much vitality and aggressiveness in all Southern California.

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce heads appear to understand that a city does not expand regardless of civic spirited enterprise and the intelligent direction of boost bodies, even though its advantages and natural resources are of amazing quality and quantity.

If the Chamber of Commerce members had been content merely with the climatic and agricultural advantages of Santa Ana, and then rested supinely on their backs, it would be doubtful if the city would today enjoy a third its population or half its popularity.

HOW IT WORKS

Vitality, community building is the bringing together of men of forthright and civic vision and the establishment of a working fund to promote such vision. The inevitable result is unified effort and civic accomplishment. Thus business men pull together, not apart. Citizens become enthusiastic boosters, not lukewarm, disinterested onlookers and partakers of good without being givers of good.

The following quotation from the annual report of the Chamber of Commerce essentially describes a city's problems and difficulties:

"It is important to remember that communities do not stand still. When a city ceases to grow, it invariably drifts back. Therefore, the duties of a Chamber of Commerce are to so advertise the community it represents that it will steadily increase in population and business enterprise."

TWENTY-EIGHTH YEAR

The present marks the twenty-eighth year of activity of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. From the word "Commerce" one deduces industry, and thus further concludes that a Chamber of Commerce body is primarily an institution for promoting commercial, industrial or business welfare. I hasten to suggest, at least in the case of Santa Ana, that the "Commerce" be dropped and "Welfare" substituted. The "Chamber of Welfare" or the "Chamber of Civic Welfare" would be more appropriate. The private citizen should be as much a part of this body as the business man. The growth of his city means also the growth of his possessions, his conveniences, his comforts, and his pleasures.

On the other hand there is no person in any walk of life who does not benefit substantially by the work of the Commerce body.

THE 1915 REPORT

The Chamber of Commerce report for the year 1915 records, among other noteworthy accomplishments, that 75,000 advertising pamphlets descriptive of Santa Ana were distributed broadcast; that it investigated and approved of the law prohibiting the filthy habit of expectorating on sidewalks, stairways and the like; the curfew ordinance; lyceum educational entertainment attractions; Federal tuberculosis bill and the like.

The above are largely humanitarian achievements. Among those of a commercial nature are:

The ornamental street lighting system in the business center; Orange Day; Olive Day, and finally, the recent remarkable Fiesta Parade. The motto of the Chamber of Commerce throughout has been "He Who Works for His Town Works for Himself."

IN CONCLUSION

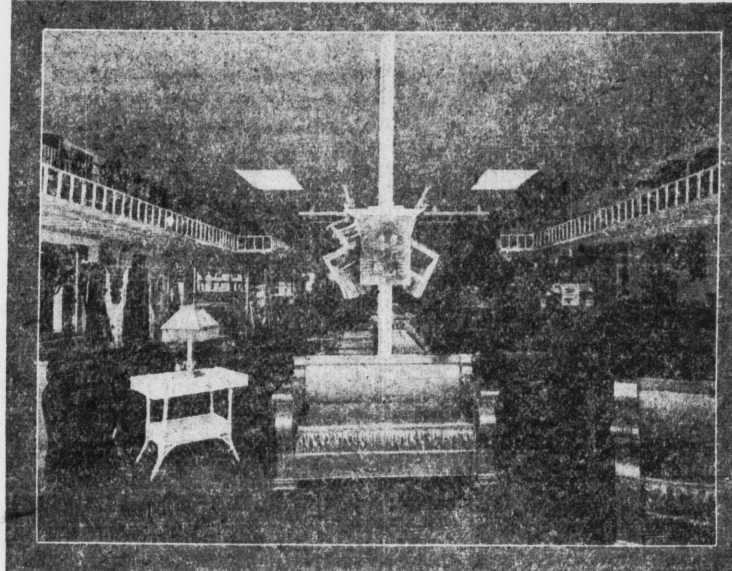

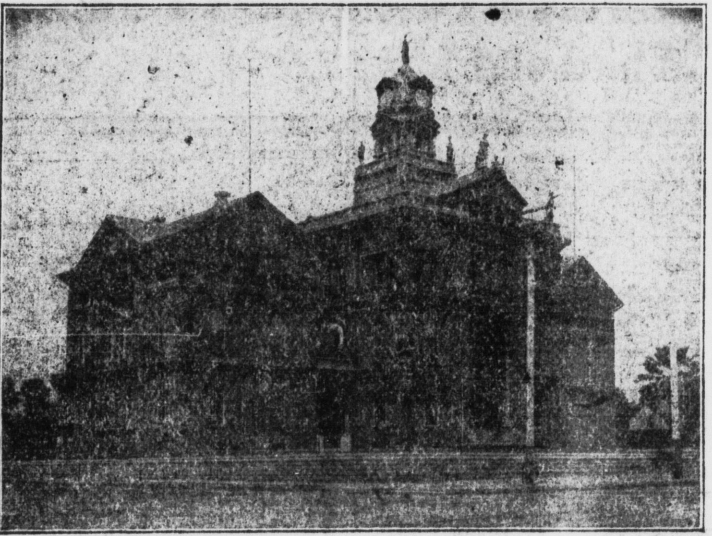

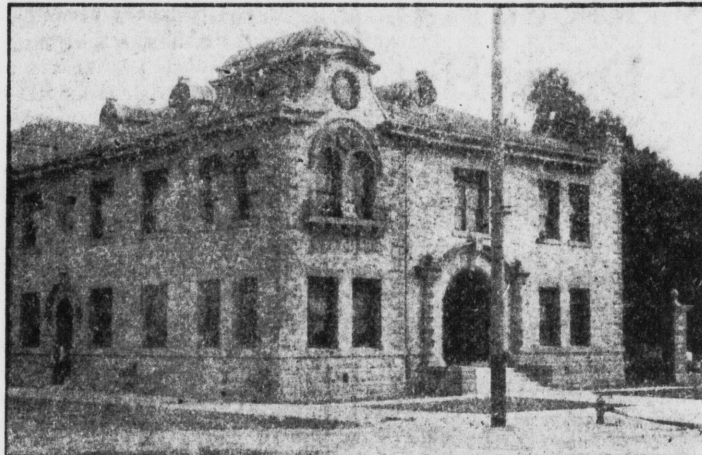

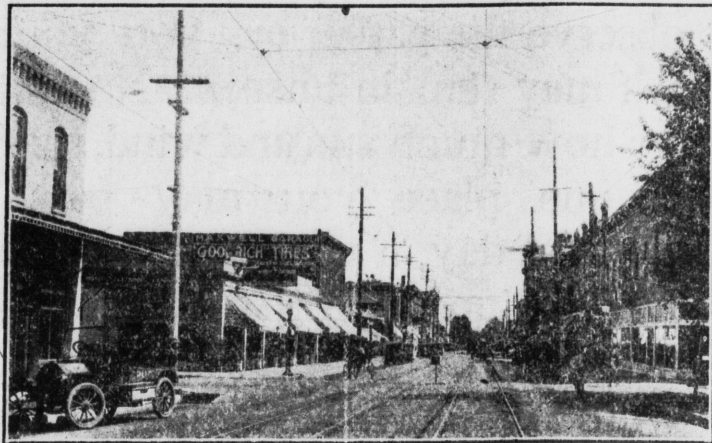

Incidentally—and fortunately—the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce is blessed with the most energetic secretary in Southern California. I have met many and know whereof I speak.

J. C. Metzgar, in spite of large responsibilities, has more steam pressure to the square inch than most men in similar positions have to the foot. He deserves the loyal support of all and it would be a commendable thing if the citizens took time now and then to visit with him (even though he is the busiest man in town) and find out wherein they can assist in promoting the welfare of the city they love.

The following items are of interest to everyone. It would be safe to remark that probably not a single citizen realizes wholly what its Chamber of Commerce body stands for and what work it does.

I asked Mr. Metzgar to give me a brief review of an ordinary day or week of activity. In an hour his stenographer brought in the following amazing list:

The Chamber of Commerce—

1. Receives and handles complaints.
2. Maintains a general information Bureau.
3. Acts as Official Host to visitors.
4. Is an advertising medium for the city.
5. Interests Homeseekers.
6. Co-operates with City Trustees in bringing to their attention needs of the city.
7. Stimulates Business Activities.
8. Works for Beautification of Santa Ana.
9. Seeks to bring outlying communities in closer touch with the city.
10. Works for the betterment of Social Conditions.
11. Keeps in touch with Legislation affecting community and country.
12. Insists on Better Roads, and gets them.
13. Co-operates with Supervisors on matters of interest to this city and surrounding country.
14. Seeks to instill Civic Pride and Loyalty in younger citizens.
15. Works toward better Transportation Facilities.
16. Through the Secretary puts the Personal Touch into community advertising.
17. Brings Santa Ana before other communities by Special Days and Celebrations.
18. Keeps information issued by Government and State Agricultural Departments for ranchers.
19. Distributes Maps, Guides and Literature to motorists and tourists.

Further, the Chamber of Commerce maintains reading and writing rooms where residents and visitors to the city are made welcome. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America bulletins are on file here. These bulletins treat on business and legislation of the country. The Weekly News Letters from the United States Department of Agriculture are on file; good roads pamphlets, and various city and agricultural directories.

United States Census Reports, Year Books of the Department of Agriculture, California Blue Book, Monthly Bulletins of California State Commission of Horticulture, circulars from Agricultural Experiment Station and various and numerous other booklets and circulars valuable to an interested citizenship.

COMMENTS AND DATA ON THE MERCHANTS

We are trusting you will find the following bit of brief and condensed history of merchants, occupying frontage on Main street, between Fifth and Sixth, of interest.

At some time during the year you will undoubtedly have occasion to do business with all of them and quite frequently during every month with some of them.

More of Them Than Any Other

It has been estimated that there are two Fords to every one car of any other make. Some have been unkind enough to remark that the popularity of the Ford is due to the free advertising it gets in the way of jokes. But the real secret is that the little ramblar has gained its powerful foothold because it is the poor man's car—and the poor man constitutes the majority.

When he buys a Ford he gets the most for little money.

But all jokes aside, we heard a new one the other day.

A man, on his dying bed, earnestly requested that his Ford be buried with him. But his wife, who probably couldn't figure out how she could get along without it, said regretfully: "But, my dear, what for?"

"Because," sighed the almost dead man, "I was never in a hole but what my Ford pulled me out."

In Santa Ana the Ford is sold by the Ford Sales and Service Corporation. It is the largest exclusive automobile dealership in Orange County.

The Ford Sales and Service Co. bought out H. C. Hefner in 1914, and is officered by Chas. Christopher, president; J. H. Stout, secretary and treasurer, and C. A. Davis, manager. Fords only are sold. Three hundred of them was the record last year, which is not much less than one per day.

Auto Sales Company

The Auto Sales Company, which is managed by the Ford Sales and Service Corporation, is county agency for Chalmers cars.

C. A. Davis, manager of the Ford Sales and Service Corporation, has been in the auto business since '98. As a salesman between Denver and the coast, he introduced a number of new cars. The present establishment, on the corner of North Main and Sixth, employs from fifteen to twenty-five people during the year.

A garage, repair and paint shop are also a part of the institution.

An Old Furniture House

Ira Chandler started in the furniture business twenty-five years ago in Santa Ana. He has been a resident of the city for forty. The dignified establishment has occupied space at its present location for twenty years.

These figures would indicate that the Chandler Furniture Company is the oldest store of its kind in the city. Seventy-five feet of valuable frontage is occupied by the concern. The stock is one of the largest in the county.

Ira Chandler and son, Ray, are the active managers.

Selling a Popular Car.

Wise is the automobile agent who handles a popular car. Half the sale for such a car is made before the demonstration commences. People instinctively have confidence in an article with a reputation; and the only way reputation is secured is through years of effort.

In handling a popular car the agent needs merely to step in and take advantage of the reputation already created.

Chas. B. Perry was either a wise chap (or a lucky one) when he landed the agency for the Maxwell in 1914. Starting in June of that year with '15 Maxwells and continuing with the '16 he sold over one hundred of the little, efficient "boats."

Perry is not old in the auto business. He was formerly employed in the nearby sugar factories. A notion that he could make good in the auto business seized him. He entered it, and by just aggressive salesmanship, with an article of international reputation, he managed to keep out in the front ranks with auto dealers.

Chas. B. Perry has also sold seven Kissel-Kars.

He is one of four men in Santa Ana who have a racing license.

The Big Plumbers

The best that can be said of the plumbing problem is that it is a serious one. It means much to the comfort and convenience of the home and it ought always to be done efficiently, regardless of cost.

There is a good deal of satisfaction in knowing that Santa Ana has a plumber, or rather two of them, who turn out efficient work on every job. They do it because they are capable and because they believe it is the only work that pays.

Carlson & Goff are termed "The Big Plumbers," which we interpret as meaning that they handle the largest number of jobs. Doing a plumbing business exclusively and employing up to date methods they are pretty well known by nearly everyone in Santa Ana.

Their shop is at 603 North Main.

For Ladies Only

A woman ought to write this paragraph. Still, a certain amount of fun will be furnished the ladies as they read, when they discover how little a mere man scribe knows about the things milady wears.

Over at Mrs. Wilhelm's exclusive corset and millinery shop the other morning we did learn something, anyhow. We learned, among other things, that corsets are fitted along medical and scientific lines these days and that it is necessary for the fitter to have a diploma as evidence of her "fitness as a fitter," if she expects to receive and hold the patronage of the elite.

Mrs. Wilhelm has such a diploma, and, therefore, she has cornered the exclusive corset trade, so to speak. Her store at 509 North Main is agency for the Gossard and Nemo corsets, both makes standing high in the estimation of women—and the manufacturers.

Gage & Fisk smart millinery are part of Mrs. Wilhelm's establishment, which has enjoyed a steady growth.

The Indian

The ensign of the Indian is a popular trade-mark. We see it on the back of our pennies; in front of cigar stores and in the "movies."

And it is usually connected with some very big successes. The latest is the Indian Motorcycle.

What can you think of that has created a more profound impression on the public than the "Indian;" and what could be a more appropriate name? It is red; it can climb hills, and it is a winner.

The Indian holds a number of world's records for speed and has a reputation for power.

Early last May, A. H. Small, southeast corner of Sixth and North Main, secured the agency for the Indian.

Nineteen new Indians have been sold during 1916.

Auto Fixings

A place to have tires repaired and purchase auto accessories is a favorite stopping point with autoists in these days of "rubber" travel. The Santa Ana Vulcanizing, Ignition and Supply Company asserts it is the first vulcanizing plant in the city. It was established three years ago and has been in the present location about one year.

A general garage business is conducted, but no cars are sold.

The Santa Ana Vulcanizing Works are agents for the south half of Orange County for Racine tires and Howe tubes. The company, under the man-

C. C. SECRETARY HANDS OUT ADVICE

BELIEVES SUB-DIVISION
IN ORDER ON SO. MAIN

Should Now Be Called State Street, He Suggests, and Gives Good Reason

BY J. C. METZGAR

(Secretary Chamber of Commerce)

Main street, running north and south through Santa Ana, is a part of the great California State Highway. It might, to the advantage of the street and the city, be renamed State street. Santa Ana has outgrown a "Main" street, and, as Fourth street is the present main street of the city, I suggest the re-christening of Main street. The avenue through which so much travel passes, the avenue where San Diego exposition visitors must twice pass over, deserves a big name. This street should be paved in keeping with the State Highway which joins it on the north. Owners of adjoining property should see to it that this work commences soon.

The North End

The residents of the growing, rich territory to the north, including the large cities of the County, must traverse Main street to reach their County Seat. As this outlying section continues to increase in production and population, Main street will continue to attract business, and its environment will attract those who desire handsome homes and surroundings. As a community is what its citizens make it, so will Main street be what it is made by those citizens who own adjacent frontages.

The South End

The section immediately to the south is ripe for intensive development and a probable Orange County Harbor and rich soil promises great inducement to development here.

The opportunity is here for immense future development, and it is up to those who own the adjoining frontage to make it or let it lie dormant while other sections develop because of enterprise and public-spiritedness.

In a few years, at most, the orchards between Santa Ana and Orange will be sub-divided and improved, Orange and Santa Ana will be divided only by an imaginary line not noticeable except on the maps.

The good roads will in the future be the means of attracting home-seekers, and territory along them will be built up just as railways in the past have built up certain favored sections, and good roads such as the great California State Highway will be feeders of cities to just as great an extent, for the reason that density of population creates real property values.

Do It Today

Main street presents an opportunity to be taken advantage of today, for "Yesterday is dead; forget it. Tomorrow never comes, don't worry over it. Today is here; let's make the best of our ability."

agement of Pearce & Hawk, has had a steady growth.

"We have no complaint to make about business. It has improved steadily since we have been in the present location," asserted J. E. Pearce.

The garage is equipped for the transient public and has a well-appointed ladies' rest room.

PUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATIONS ARE ACTIVE HERE

From 172 subscribers in 1899 to 2560 in 1916 is the record of the growth of the Pacific Telephone service in Santa Ana.

Above the desk of E. S. Morrow, local manager for the company, hangs a framed list of the subscribers in the early days. Among the names are the following: Wm. F. Lutz, F. P. Nickey, and W. A. Huff. The telephone exchanges were then called Black, Red, Main and Suburban.

The Telephone Today

Today the telephone is as important to commercialism and to the social welfare of individual communities as are railroads to the country at large. In fact, the correspondent can recall that during a debate as to which of the two service corporations were of greater importance, the arguments advanced in favor of the telephone much outweighed those set forth by the railroad cohorts.

Probably the strongest point in the telephone's favor is that you can reach New York in just a few minutes, while it takes several days by railroad. Even the telegraph is not nearly as speedy.

The Switchboard

Operating a switchboard is an interesting study. The multitude of signals seem confusing to the outsider—and they are to some extent. Mr. Morrow stated that the company must be patient with recruit operators two months and better, before they can be relied upon to efficiently handle a board.

The girls are taken in and virtually put through a system of education. It is a business college; but it differs in that the applicants are paid a salary while learning. Gradually as they become expert, their pay is increased. Other conveniences are also allowed them and the switchboard operator's job is one much sought after.

Employees' Benefits

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company maintains a $10,000,000 employees' benefit fund. Injury or death to an employee while on duty assures a liberal allowance.

Employees who are in the service of the company two years or more are permitted to purchase stock in the corporation at rates lower than those quoted in the open market, and to pay for them on the installment plan.

Employees leaving for army service are granted full pay by the company the first three months and full pay, less the government allowance, for the next nine months. The officers of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company have not determined what allowance will be made beyond this, but assure their employees that the matter will be handled along similar liberal lines.

New Building Planned

The Pacific Telephone Company recently purchased the lot on the corner of Bush and Fifth. The property has a frontage of 100 feet on Fifth and 125 on Bush. In the very near future a concrete or brick front structure will be erected. It will be two stories with full basement and equal to similar buildings now erected at Riverside and elsewhere.

The local office, at 506 North Main, employs twenty-nine operators, fifteen linemen and five office clerks.

SOUTHERN COUNTIES GAS COMPANY

A public service corporation succeeds in the same measure that it serves.

It can safely be said that there are few public service corporations who do not fully appreciate this and who are not attempting, in so far as they are able to make of their institutions a place of service.

The Southern Counties Gas Company may have made mistakes in the past, or it may have appeared to some that it made mistakes, but the policy of the company has always been to give the public what it wanted.

Orange County has had a good share of real service at the hands of this corporation the last few years. With natural gas at reasonable rates and a continuous, unlimited natural supply we have been getting all that a community may ask for.

Recent Expenditures

The Southern Counties Gas Company is expending $80,000 in Orange County at present. A six inch main is being laid from Anaheim to Santa Ana. When completed this will guarantee a sufficient and uninterrupted service for the next five years. A four inch pipe is also being laid between Huntington Beach and Newport.

In Santa Ana the Gas Company has made extensions to the tune of 1,600 feet during the last year.

An indication of the quality of the Gas Company's service may be had from the fact that in the past two years, since natural gas was turned into the mains, only once was the ser-

ELECTION RIOTS PANAMA BUGBEAR

Demonstrations Feared When Republic Elects Its Next President

PANAMA CITY, Panama.—More riots are predicted for this republic in September, when a president is to be chosen to succeed Dr. Belisario Porras. The riots incidental to the municipal elections recently held have proven to have been more serious and general in scope than first reported. The party supporting the candidacy for the presidency of Rodolfo Chiari continues its bitter attacks on the government party.

Representatives of both political parties are making frequent calls on William J. Price, American minister to Panama; Maj.-Gen. George W. Goethals, governor of the Canal Zone, and Brig.-Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, commanding the United States troops at Ancon. Both sides are presenting charges and counter-charges.

During the first days of June merchants in Panama City who are friends of prominent members of the Chiari or opposition party, received revolvers and ammunition in such large quantity that the government requested the Panama Railroad Company to suspend delivery of such shipments until after the elections next month, especially if such shipments should not be accompanied by consular invoices.

Investigation developed that about five hundred partisans of Senor Chiari were left in the outskirts of the city without leadership to take them to the polls. When this became known alarming reports were spread about the city and irresponsible men who were armed with revolvers began shooting and calling for the police to act to prevent election frauds. The rioting was put down within a few minutes. Several persons were wounded and many were arrested. A boy was accidentally shot and killed.

American soldiers did not cross the line between the Canal Zone and Panama, but their readiness to intervene undoubtedly served to check a possible outbreak.

The election passed off quietly except in this city. Taboga and Guare. At Chorrera the ballot boxes were destroyed, one person was killed and several wounded. In Toboga district there were several persons wounded in street fighting.

Description

"She possesses the superwoman charm. She has the peculiar magnetism which has been the chief asset of Nell Gwynn, Du Barry and Cleopatra. It is not her beauty that makes her fascinating, though she is very beautiful with her blue, blue eyes," etc., etc.

And who is this paragon? A star in drama? A new light breaking into the world of music? Perhaps a writer? At least a person of attainment?

Alas, no. A mischievous miss arrested for stealing. Not her first arrest, either. But she has the magnetism all right. She magnetized one reporter, anyhow.

We have another good subject to talk about, this time for the back part of the house. At all times of the year you need a good Gas Range. Perhaps you have been making the old range do, until you found just what you wanted, We have it now. The A.-B. Gas Range, built like a Battleship.

Gas Ranges $13 to $50* and better if you want.

"Life Is a Search for Power"

So says the Sage of Concord.

Young Man, Young Woman, whoever and wherever you may be, if you desire best to qualify for the work the world wants done, you will find at the Orange County Business College, practical and progressive courses of study in bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, stenotypy, business efficiency, advertising, salesmanship, commercial law, penmanship, English, Spanish, and kindred branches—courses which, when well mastered, will give you the power to know, the power to be, and the power to do.

Bookkeeping

Our complete course in bookkeeping embodies the last word in modern accounting. It is made up of the best parts of all the leading systems, including the famous 20th Century, the H. M. Rowe Co., the Bliss system, the J. S. Sweet system of actual business bookkeeping, and the C. W. Robbins's Celebrated Auditing Method of Bookkeeping and Banking. We also teach Pace & Pace's advanced work in Certified Public Accounting, which leads to positions as public accountants and corporation auditors.

Penmanship Department

This department is in charge of one of the best penmen and, we think, the best teacher of penmanship that the country affords. Not every good penman is a good teacher. The successful teacher of penmanship must be able to criticize and to point out to the student his errors in execution and make it easy for him to overcome them. Our students often remark that they learn more penmanship here in three to six months than they learned in all their practice before.

Shorthand

We teach in this department, what is declared by educators and business men to be the best system extant—the natural, light-line, easy-to-write and easy-to-read, simple to learn and easy-to-remember GREGG system. We also teach the Stenotype—the machine way in shorthand.

Students of this institution daily receive individual instruction in the above and many other subjects, by experienced and scholarly teachers. They are enthused and inspired, their dormant faculties are aroused and their perceptions quickened. They hourly come into personal touch with teachers and are all the time surrounded by other ambitious students, whose friendly emulation spurs them on to their utmost efforts. If you attend this school, our teachers and our students alike will give you a thrill you will feel as long as you live. In this environment and wholesome atmosphere you will rapidly acquire the power to know, the power to be, and the power to do.

If you are interested in acquiring a thorough, practical business education that will best fit you for the active duties of life—an education that will enable you to wave the banner of success over your achievements, let us show you what we have done for others who are today holding positions in almost every bank, sugar factory, packing house, mercantile concern and professional office in Orange County, and in many other counties and other states of the union. What we have done for others, we will do for you. Enrolling in this institution is the first step successward.

SPECIAL OFFER

In order to write the largest August business in the history of the institution, we have decided to offer an extra month free to all who enroll this month for our fall course. This will afford ample time to become very expert in your work and insure your making good in your first position. We shall open the fall term in our own new building, now being constructed at Nos. 626 to 632 North Main street, but this need not interfere with your joining now, because our school will be transferred to the new building without the loss of a single school day. For full information, call at our present quarters, at 117½ East Fourth street, where we have been located for more than twenty years, and where you will find an enthusiastic class of students daily pursuing their studies.

PRINCESS ONLY THEATRE ON MAIN ST.

LARGE AUDITORIUM MAY REPLACE PRESENT HOUSE

Such Addition Would Mean
Much to Business Future
Of Main Street

The most phenomenal achievement of the past decade is the growth of the moving picture industry. Practically unknown twelve years ago it today stands sixth among America's great industries.

Los Angeles has several hundred animated picture theatres and two-thirds of the film manufacturing companies. The industry has meant much to Southern California. It more than returns to us the money we send east for automobiles.

The Local Field

Santa Ana has five moving picture theatres — and they are among the best. In previous write-ups we covered three of them. Main street has but one theatre—the Princess—managed by T. J. Cooper, who took charge of the amusement center last July.

Mr. Cooper enjoys a wide experience as an entertainment and amusement manager. For several years he acted as advance agent for Chautauqua institutions. He has also managed road shows and at one time he owned as many as five houses.

He has brought this wealth of experience to Santa Ana and is putting on the pick of screen productions at the Princess. His policy is to go "wild-cattling," that is, he ties himself down to no one producing company, but takes his pick of the best programs issued by all.

A Coming Feature

Because of this policy Mr. Cooper is continually putting on some good features. Today he announces the coming of D. W. Griffith's masterpiece, "Home, Sweet Home."

The 800 seats at the Princess will probably not be nearly enough to accommodate the crowds at this performance.

A Rumor

There appears to be a good foundation for the rumor that the present site of the Princess is soon to be replaced by an auditorium seating sixteen hundred people. Mr. Cooper would not confirm the report, but conceded that such a thing might happen.

Let us hope the theatre project will be a reality—and soon.

JITNIES GROWING RAPIDLY IN SANTA ANA

Santa Ana's first jitney was operated by A. B. Watson. There has always been a discussion as to who started the jitney method of transportation. Some claim a chap in Texas was responsible, while we are certain that an old gentleman of Orange, whose name escapes us at this moment, plied the first passenger automobile. It ran in competition with the old "Peanut Roaster" or "Dummy," operated between the North Main street bridge and Orange.

But that is neither here nor there. In dealing with the evolution of the jitney in this write-up we shall concern ourselves with the part the Crown Stage played. We are assured that A. B. Watson operated the first stage under the name of the "Crown."

It is not long ago when the jitnies were permitted to stand anywhere on the streets. Later they were limited to a certain portion of North Main, and, finally, they were requested to maintain a depot of their own. It was at this time that E. L. Deacon bought into the Crown Stage business and opened the depot at 506 North Main. He was one of the first jitney men to establish a running schedule; and by adhering strictly to it he has built up a substantial patronage.

The Crown Stage, under the management of Watson & Deacon, has made quite a record for itself. Only one person has been seriously injured on their various stage lines since September 1, 1915, nearly a year ago. During this period some 200,000 people used the Crown means of transportation.

Thirty-two cars are operated and 6,000 miles a day covered by their autos.

See their schedule in another part of this issue.

Why Pay More Than $595?

You say you want a really high grade automobile—a car that will compare favorably with your neighbor's—one that your family will enjoy. But you expect to pay well for such a car. Do you know that the Maxwell at only $595 offers you all these advantages?

When you see it—ride in it—compare it—go over it carefully point by point—then you will realize that it offers you value equal to that found in most other cars selling for about one thousand dollars.

It's complete—electric starter and lights, demountable rims, one man top—all necessary accessories. And the engine is unusually durable and powerful. The Maxwell holds the world's endurance record, 22,000 miles without a stop of the engine. Then, too, there is economy—twenty miles per gallon of gasoline—7,000 to 10,000 miles per set of tires.

And this wonderful car sells for only $595. Again we ask, why pay more?

ANNOUNCEMENT

In charge of Mrs. H. T. Gowdy, artiste, our parlors reopened Monday, the 7th. Mrs. Gowdy comes from the north and is a graduate of the best schools.

SHAMPOOING—MANICURING—FACIAL MASSAGE.

Misses Rutherfords

408 North Main St.
First National Bank Bldg.

NO AUTOMOBILE STATIONS IN THIS BLOCK

North Main street, Fourth to Fifth, is the only block in the business section which does not contain an auto or tire establishment.

The two title guarantee companies, two real estate dealers and the Main street entrance to Rankin's dry goods store are among those having frontage in this block; and we must not forget the First National Bank, the Southern California Edison Company and Young's Cafeteria.

The Misses Rutherford

Aside from the fact that the Rutherford sisters carry a very exclusive line of millinery, another feature abounds at their store. They operate a beauty parlor, that is, if a shampooing, hair-dressing and manicuring department can be called a beauty parlor. We are rather inclined to the belief that such things are a necessity, a part of a lady's system of cleanliness and neatness par-excellence.

The Rutherford parlors this year are in charge of Mrs. Gowdy, who hails from the north and who carries some noteworthy diplomas as evidence of her ability.

In the millinery department Miss Rutherford reports that the new fall styles are in and ready for your inspection.

An Important Change

An important change has taken place in the Alexandria Billiard Parlors. Under the management of H. C. Burke, who took charge two months ago, the parlors have been transformed into the finest in Orange County, and equal to the best in Southern California.

Every table has been overhauled and re-covered, and the circassian walnut finish harmonizes with the general scheme of things throughout the Alexandria parlors.

Nine tables are in evidence, three of them are carom billiards and six pocket billiards.

The grand opening of the remodeled Alexandria will take place in the near future. Mr. Burke has engaged Lloyd Jevne, ex-three-cushion champion and entertainer de luxe, to grace the parlors on this evening.

F. E. Finster is assistant manager and R. W. Lantz will have charge of the cigar department.

The Mode

Figuratively speaking it can be said of Mrs. B. C. Roberts that she was "raised" in the millinery business.

But she has been in Santa Ana only two years. The following is her opinion about our fair town:

"I selected Santa Ana for the reason that it looked better to me than any other place on the coast; in fact, Santa Ana is the only place for me."

The Mode Millinery, at 417 North Main, is owned and run by Mrs. Roberts and her husband, who, if we have the data correct, came from Iowa two years ago and opened up the store at the above address.

"We try to carry the best goods manufactured and to sell them at the lowest prices possible," added Mrs. Roberts, "and we employ only artists in the millinery line," she concluded.

Jack Palmer

The huge motors installed for the Yorba Linda Water Company, about thirty days ago, were placed by Jack Palmer, who has his place of business on the corner of Main and Fifth. The Palmer Motor shop makes a specialty of motors and the re-winding of motors, doing all this work in their own establishment.

Jack Palmer has had twelve years experience as an electrician and has been in business for himself over a year at the above-named address.

The Orange County agency for Westinghouse products is also his. Just around the corner on Fifth you will find the following:

Billy Pennock

A peculiar coincidence surrounds Billy Pennock and his tire shop. Billy, and the name of his shop—the Ideal Tire Shop—are perfectly in harmony. Billy is a good scout, and an Ideal chap to do business with. Anyone who has ever bought a Diamond tire or had a vulcanizing job done by him will testify to the truth of the foregoing assertion. In fact, we got the information from a customer while we waited around to interview Billy.

William Pennock has been in the tire business ten or eleven years. In Santa Ana about two years. At present his shop is located at 114 East Fifth. Diamond tires are the big feature, though other makes are also carried by the Ideal Tire Shop.

Repairing and threading are also part of the business.

"Squeezes"

The Squeeze Tire received its name from the squeeze window cleaner, that bit of rubber used in drying the window after it has been washed.

Jack Willey, who is distributor for Squeezes, asserts it is one of the three actual non-skid tires on the Pacific coast, and that the non-skid is being used almost exclusively by auto owners and dealers.

Jack also claims to be the only

CITY HALL BLOCK BETWEEN THIRD AND SECOND

One of the best automobile locations in the city is the corner of Second and Main, at present occupied by H. H. Kelly, dealer for Cadillacs and Oaklands.

The white front building has one of the best display rooms on the street and a double front window "look-in." Kelly made a strike when he landed the location. The floor space upon which to display cars is very spacious and well lighted.

H. H. Kelly, who is one of the best known and one of the first auto dealers in Orange County, has had the agency for the Cadillac seven years. The Oakland was added six months ago. He will continue to handle both cars this season.

Aside from being a live auto salesman and a well-liked Irishman, Kelly is one of the strong boosters we have in our city.

"You can't drive me out of Santa Ana. If I was to quit business tomorrow I would no doubt find something new right here in town," is the way he put it.

Business is Better

"We have had the best June in the history of our business. I have not checked up on July, but it looks equally good. Business has been improving right along the past few months. The future looks good to me."

These are the sentiments of George Lentz, president and manager of the Santa Ana Furniture Company, which occupies a fifty foot front, two-story and basement corner on Main and Third. L. A. Dickey is secretary of the corporation and Mrs. J. W. Eaton treasurer.

The store has been in its present location four years, moving to it from East Fourth street after buying out the Liebig & Johnson stock.

The Santa Ana Furniture Company makes its appeal to the medium class trade and enjoys the confidence of the buying public to a very popular extent.

Two Popular Cars

The Dodge and the Hudson are handled by A. L. O'Conner and O. A. Haley, who have been automobile men for more than four years. They bought into the present location last January after looking California over thoroughly. More than a dozen agencies were offered them, but Santa Ana looked too good.

"And we're here to stay," was the way Mr. O'Conner wound up the interview.

The Dodge, as most people know, has had one of the most sensational successes of any car on the market. Manufactured only three years, it stands out in front as one of the first four popular-priced cars in the country.

"Business is so good we can't get enough cars to fill our orders," added O'Conner.

The Dodge and Hudson salesrooms are located at 209-11 North Main. Forty Dodge cars, four Hudsons, three Vim trucks and about fifty second-hand cars have been sold since January.

Cleaning up

The Crystal Cleaning Company runs one of the finest cleaning and dyeing establishments in Orange County. L. B. Babbitt, the manager, is a believer in modern methods and his plant is one of the most up to date in equipment, able to turn out forty suits per hour. A specialty is made of cleaning fancy dresses and delicate fabrics.

As you enter the Crystal Cleaning store you are attracted by the carpeted floor and the neat show-cases in which cleaned garments are kept until called for.

Ten people are employed.

The Blackstone Tire

Just off Main, at 110 West Second, you will find the service station for Blackstone Tires, which is conducted by the Gowdy Vulcanizing Company.

Mr. Gowdy moved into this location just recently from Third street. The building is a large and roomy one and gives him a chance to better serve his patrons.

Gowdy is a first-rate chap to do business with, and understands his work well. He pays cash for old tires and makes a specialty of vulcanizing difficult jobs.

A large stock of the popular Knight Tires, including the famous Blackstone, are carried by the Gowdy Vulcanizing Company. Accessories are also a part of the stock.

The Fortune That Wasn't

A regrettable incident connected with the death of J. R. McLean was the inevitable mention of the "One Hundred Million Dollar Baby," so dubbed by some reporter with the mental equipment of a wienerwurst peddler.

The baby got its title through being the grandson of McLean, and the millions tacked on were those supposed to be possessed by the grandfather. The McLean estate is a little above six millions, and most luckily for the baby, there is no chance that he will get all of that.

MUCH DISCUSSED QUESTION OF FEEDING BABY

Very Important

The most talked-of question in the newspapers today — aside from war and politics — is infantile paralysis. The baby question is a serious one in itself—and doubly so in the summer.

The New York authorities are responsible for the assertion that two-thirds of the baby trouble is due to impure milk. Stringent as are the state laws they are not a guarantee to mother, when she buys so-called pasteurized milk, that it will conform to tests and requirements. This is not a reflection that the laws are not enforced. They are—in so far as it is humanly possible for the health authorities to do so.

The only positive guarantee of milk purity is the man behind it. If he is the sort of man who believes his success is absolutely dependent upon pure, pasteurized milk, delivered in sterilized bottles, you may confidently and safely be assured that the milk he brings to your door will be just a bit better than the law demands.

Santa Ana has three men who are pasteurizing milk, and who employ every method known to modern sanitary dairying, because they believe in it with their whole souls. It is their religion.

Go through the plant of the Excelsior Dairy Company, on the corner of Main and First. Aside from convincing you of the foregoing statement, such an inspection journey will be one of interest and education.

Very few people understand that pasteurization is not boiling, but that it is a process of purifying milk without in the least affecting its digestive qualities, and that it is the only method thus far discovered of positively destroying germ life.

The Excelsior Dairy plant is about the whitest, cleanest and brightest institution of its kind in Orange County. Established a little over a year ago, in a small way, it is today sending out four wagons daily. The white-painted, blue-trimmed rigs are among the neatest on our streets.

Milk, butter, butter-milk, cottage cheese, are the products turned out by the company, which was incorporated April, 1915. Chas. F. Heil is president; J. A. Ranney, vice president and W. D. Ranney, manager.

A branch store was recently opened at 310 West Fourth.

SOMETHING NEW IN EATING LINE

"Great oaks from little acorns grow."

This well-known expression, though much used, is a simple and obvious one. But we know that if the oak is to be a reality the acorn must be sound, and the soil into which it falls fertile.

What we are attempting to point out at this particular time is that the beginning of every large and massive oak is the small, almost insignificant acorn. To be sure, there are successes which had their beginnings on a large scale; but if you will search closely you will discover that most of them have been of a spasmodic, temporary nature. The lasting success invariably started in a small way. In short, from acorn to oak via nature's patient and safe way, is the sure method of building success, whether it be commercial, professional or artistic.

A Successful Beginning

Commercial achievements almost always are the result of acorn beginnings. But the extent of a commercial success depends upon the purchasing power of the community. If the field is prolific and the goods offered are of excellent value and sold at interesting prices the possibilities are unlimited. In such cases success often begins shortly after the establishment of the commercial enterprise.

A striking example of a quick and permanent business development, is that of the Honeysuckle Bakery, on Eighteenth street, between Main and Broadway.

In less than one short year Lloyd Crane, the originator of Honeysuckle bread, has succeeded in creating a demand for his loaves to the tune of 800 to 1,000 per day. For a small private baker, this is a remarkable showing. Honeysuckle bread must have unusual merit or folks would not respond in such manner.

Hot Bread Twice Daily

Mr. Crane believes that much of his success is due to the fact that he bakes and delivers hot Honeysuckle twice daily. Nothing tastes quite so good as well-baked, fresh bread "right off the fire," and Mr. Crane appreciates this human weakness.

Mr. Crane was formerly employed in the bakery department of the Dragon. He knows how to use the rich combinations of milk, shortening, and flour in the making of good bread. As he put it: "I am baking just as good bread as I know how; and keeping my bakeshop just as clean as I know how."

How You Can Get It

For most part Honeysuckle bread is sold by grocery stores. But if your grocer does not keep it just phone Lloyd Crane or the Honeysuckle Bakery and it will be delivered to you as fast as a Ford can ramble.

Honeysuckle sells at the rate of two loaves for fifteen cents—Adv.

MAIN STREET. FROM THIRD TO FOURTH

The Citizens Bank is Santa Ana's newest bank. It occupies frontage on Main, in the block from Fourth to Third, and is officered by the following:

E. E. Vincent, president; John A. Harvey, vice president; L. M. Doyle, cashier.

Miss Ruth Taylor has an attractive millinery store in this block, which is now being remodeled to make it even more inviting.

Dean's Millinery is just across the street, at 312, and the Blue-Line Stage depot adjoins it.

The Farmers and Merchants National Bank and the California Bank have a good strip of space in this block also. Others follow:

The Overland

In point of sales the Overland stands about as near the top as any in the country. The large demand is responsible for the great quantity turned out by the factory. Enormous production is the secret of turning out a good automobile at a popular price. The Willys Overland factory comes within a few acres of being the largest plant in the country.

Think of selling almost one car per week in a city the size of Santa Ana. Yet this is the record of F. L. Austin, the local Overland agent.

Since nineteen eleven he has sold 213 new cars and about 100 second-hand.

Mr. Austin claims to be the first auto dealer in the county. He introduced the Chalmers, Kissel-Kar and Stoddard Dayton in Orange County. He has been in the auto business in Santa Ana about ten years.

In addition to Overlands Mr. Austin is agent for Goodrich Tires (both the general line and the Silver Town Thread.

Variety

No merchandise success in the United States surpasses the Woolworth 5c, 10c and 15c idea of selling goods. The founder of the plan enjoys the distinction of owning the tallest building in the country and affirms that the money to build it came from the profits of his string of 5c, 10c and 15c stores scattered throughout the country.

A similar store is conducted in Santa Ana by C. D. Hayes, at 303 North Main street. While the Hayes Variety store is not an exclusive 5c, 10c and 15c store it specializes in articles at these prices.

Mr. Hayes came from Portland, Oregon, about two years ago and selected Santa Ana, which averaged up just a bit better than the other cities he looked over.

Everything at the Hayes Variety Store is arranged conveniently on a sort of help-yourself plan.

Things Electrical

Not more than ten years ago most houses were lighted by gas and coal oil. Today you will find but few unwired for electricity—the greatest factor in modern progress. Reckoning the progress of the past ten years it seems reasonable to assume that in another like period most homes will be using electricity not only for lighting but for heating and cooking.

J. G. Robinson and M. O. Packard, 305 North Main, have wired a great many houses and important buildings throughout Southern California. At present they are wiring a grammar school way down in the Imperial Valley, at Niland. An auditorium at Inglewood; grammar schools at Gardena, Brea, Placentia and Downey are among recent contracting jobs completed.

Their store is well stocked with things electrical.

A Well-Known House

A general line of groceries, fruits and vegetables, with potatoes, bananas and apples as a feature, are the specialties of the Santa Ana Produce Company, Odd Fellows building. The corporation sells both wholesale and retail, cash or credit.

The fruit and vegetable stand of the company will be remembered as having been located on the corner of Fourth and Main, in the present quarters of the California Bank. The company has been doing business for nine years. J. G. Morrow, president; A. Berghofer, secretary and treasurer, and F. M. Best, vice president, are owners of the Santa Ana Produce Company.

We asked Mell Smith to give us a little history of himself, but he was so blamed busy repairing watches he had no time for an interview.

The Worst Yet

Autoists in New York city shouted "Hurrah!" as their machine struck a man and killed him.

That beats the record. It is customary for the autoist in these melancholy circumstances not to shout, but to devote all his energies to the getaway.

The Latest Supreme Accomplishment

You want, above all, to have confidence in your car.

You want to know that it will take you where you want to go, when you want to go, without faltering.

—and that it will continue to serve you well, month in and month out, year after year.

You have this confidence, instinctively, in Overland Model 85 Six.

It would be hard to find a car more pleasing or more satisfying than the Overland Model 85-Six. The car is long, and the body a beautiful example of streamline design.

Crowned fenders, long and sweeping in their curves, and clean running boards emphasize the appearance. The built-in windshield conforms to the curve of the cowl, making it a part of the car rather than a mere attachment. The rich Brewster green finish, white-striped, completes the thoroughly stylish appearance.

The beauty of the car is apparent from any angle.

The Chalmers Six Is the Last Word in Automobile Engineering

The Chalmers Six is leading the way for all other auto manufacturers.

Because of their antiquated ideas, they cannot realize the Chalmers performance.

Chalmers means absolute control without shifting gears. The most delicate lady or child can handle it in the crowded streets, where the congested traffic makes the handling of other cars difficult for a husky man.

Because, they know that it means that this Chalmers is the car and the only car that will satisfy you, once you have seen it and sat behind the wheel and felt the feel of its performance of anything from 2 miles an hour on high to 25 miles in less than 10 seconds.

Because, they know that the wear and tear is down to the last notch, and that the aluminum pistons make light reciprocating parts, and its wonderful, compact high speed motor guarantees perfect balance, delicate propulsion and remarkable acceleration, as to speed and power its service to you is perfect.

It will be many years from now before we can tell you how long a Chalmers Six will last. But the records we cite cover the greatest strains a motor car ever met. Many a great engine has gone to pieces under far lesser strain. Years of ordinary driving would never tax a motor like those thousands of miles of the factory tests. There is no need to wait to get time's verdict on the Chalmers after such strenuous tests proving its supremacy over wear. These are the things to consider when buying a car.

Demonstrations given by appointment.
